George Anderson, transportation director, obliges by carefully removing nest, placing it in a box, and depositing contents in a field. When bus returns from its run, nest is returned to its original place on tire with approval of Mother Robin who continues

'WE WISH FRIENDSHIP'

Castro Urges End To Embargo

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Fidel Castro has strongly urged Washington to ease its trade embargo with Cuba, denied any Cuban role in the assassination of John F. Kennedy and charged that the CIA was behind a number of attempts on his own life.

But looking into American television cameras, Castro pointedly said in English, "We wish friendship. We belong to two different worlds but we are neighbors. One way or another we owe it to ourselves to live in peace."

The Cuban prime minister held a news conference Wednesday night between private sessions with visiting Sen. George McGovern.

Castro said he felt President Richard M. Nixon had "a personal hostility against Cuba and many counterrevolutionary friends" but he added, "President Ford does not have any personal hostility."

"The fact that the Vietnam war is over helps to improve relations. It was very difficult during the war to improve relations" because Cuba strongly opposed America's policy, Castro said.

Earlier, the bearded leader took the wheel of a jeep and roared around the hilly countryside to show the senator and Mrs. McGovern a rum factory and several farm and housing projects.

Castro told the news conference, "We prefer a total lifting" of the 13-year-old U.S. trade embargo, but he added that resumption of shipments to Cuba of food and medicine "will help a lot."

He said he felt Washington should reciprocate with an "important step" to match his gesture in signing an agreement with the United States that virtually eliminated a wave of hijackings to Cuba. He said, "We believe this gesture has not been sufficiently" matched by the United States.

Castro and his associates have demanding a relaxation of the boycott before the two countries can negotiate other friction points such as release of U.S. prisoners in Cuban jails and compensation for $1.8 billion in U.S. property expropriated after Castro seized power.

Castro pointed out that Cuba "does not have any blockade against the United States and no military base in Florida."

On the Kennedy assassination, Castro said any Cuban role in the slaying of a U.S. president would be "absurd, irresponsible, crazy — and a very dangerous measure.... It would have been stupid on the part of Cuba to associate itself in a matter of such tremendous moment as the assassination of a president of the United States."

However, he said "it is not news for us" that the CIA was involved in various attempts to kill him and other leaders of the 1959 Cuban revolution.

Castro said that "for many years" his security forces had uncovered plots against his regime, and in many cases those sent were trained by the CIA, maintained and armed by the CIA, and in some cases the weapons used were "smuggled out of the Guantanamo Naval Base."

Despite these attempts against his own life, Castro said it is not the policies of "Socialist revolutions to kill their adversaries."

Castro declared that Kennedy was an adversary, having been president during the Bay of Pigs invasion. But said he considered Kennedy a known factor and "an intelligent man who had begun to understand the errors of his policies and perhaps Kennedy would have made some steps toward (improving relations with Cuba)."

Castro praised McGovern for his role as a bomber pilot in World War II over Germany and

Jobless Benefit Bill Is Facing Threat Of Veto

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A bill raising jobless benefits is ready for a final Senate vote today after being amended to help more people.

The measure would raise benefits by up to $30 a week for some 450,000 of the state's more than 500,000 compensation recipients.

An amendment Wednesday would grant improved benefits to 65,000 jobless who have passed their 26th week of compensation when the measure goes into effect.

But the bill still would not help those already out of work for more than 39 weeks. As passed by the House, those out of work for more than 26 weeks would get no increase.

The Senate voted to provide an extra $15 million to fund the increases through the 39th week of unemployment. The money is needed because the federal contribution to benefits is based on the amount received by the same worker in the first 26 weeks.

Under the Senate measure, workers in this category would return to the lower benefit level after their 39th week of eligibility.

Workers now in their first 26 weeks also would get the benefit increase through 39 weeks. Then their benefits would drop to the average they received in their first 26 weeks.

Workers who go on the rolls after the bill takes effect would get the benefit increase for the full duration of their eligibility.

The bill raises benefits from 55 to 60 percent of the worker's average former weekly wage. The maximum increase is $30, but the average boost is $10-$25 a week.

Senate Democrats defeated a GOP attempt Wednesday to take off the rolls workers who quit their jobs, or are fired for theft, sabotage or assault.

"This is a section which really galls employers — that they have to provide for the shiftless, the drunks and the thieves," said Sen. Alvin DeGrow, R-Pigeon.

The entire measure was again attacked by Republicans as detrimental to business and future employment.

"The day this bill becomes law will be the last day this state exists as a viable competitor for business," said Sen. Hal Ziegler, R-Jackson, voicing business' concern over the cost to them of paying for higher benefits.

"This is the cruellest bill I've ever seen, because that guy you're giving a couple of extra bucks will never be employed again," he said.

Hinting at a veto by Republican Gov. William Milliken, Sen. Minority Leader Robert Davis, R-Gaylord, said there is "a distinct possibility that this bill is unacceptable to the executive office — the governor is becoming more and more negative."

GOP senators also threatened to vote against making the increases effective immediately.

But Democratic leaders said they were confident they could muster the 26 votes needed for immediate effect.

Before approving the measure Wednesday, the Senate Labor Committee reduced the wage base on which employers would pay into the unemployment compensation fund, from $6,700 to $5,400. Currently, employers pay on the first $4,200 on each worker's salary.

Teacher Union Leader Arrested

By DENNIS OGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW, PAW — A Paw Paw grade school teacher who is president of the Paw Paw Education association was arraigned in Seventh District court here yesterday on a morals charge involving a 12-year-old boy.

The boy is a student in the Black River school where the teacher worked.

Arraigned on a charge of first degree criminal sexual conduct was Thomas L. Hawley, 28, Portage, who in 1973 had battled the Paw Paw school board over its failure to renew his 1973-74 teaching contract. He has been chief negotiator for the teachers union. He had filed suit with the Michigan Employment Relations commission, claiming discrimination because of his activities with the teachers union group. He won reinstatement.

Hawley, employed by the Paw Paw district since January, 1971, demanded preliminary examination on the morals charge and was released after posting a $750 bond. The preliminary hearing was set for May 14.

County Prosecutor Frank Willis said the alleged offense occurred at the school about April 7 during school hours.

According to the prosecutor the boy had been given a lie detector test.

Schools Supt. Noral Bovee said Hawley had been placed on administrative suspension with pay until further notice. Under the suspension, Hawley is to stay off school property during school hours, Bovee said.

According to the administrator, Hawley, in addition to being president of the education association, was also the chief contract negotiator for the teachers' group.

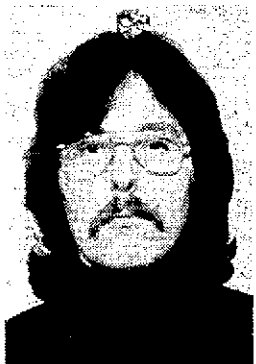

A warrant for Hawley's arrest was issued Tuesday by the Van Buren prosecutor's office, and Hawley voluntarily surrendered at the Paw Paw police station yesterday morning, according to acting Police Chief George Fadel.

The warrant was issued following a week-long investigation by Paw Paw police.

Because the boy involved is under 13, and because of the nature of the alleged act, a conviction of the charge could bring a maximum life sentence in prison, Willis explained.

In May, 1973 Hawley filed a suit with the Michigan Employment Relations commission charging the Paw Paw school board with failing to renew his 1973-74 teaching contract because of his activities with the Paw Paw Education association. He was subsequently re-instated and granted tenure.

Wallace Thinks U.S. Fought On Wrong Side

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace has said he believes the United States may have been wrong in fighting against Germany and Japan during World War II. The Washington Post reported Wednesday night.

The newspaper quoted Wallace as telling a group of foreign journalists on a tour of the South: "I think we were fighting the wrong people, maybe, in World War II."

According to the Post, Wallace said that in the years before Pearl Harbor "our true foreign policy ... ought to have been cultivating the friendship of the Japanese and the Germans instead of being antagonistic."

The Alabama Democrat remarked to a Soviet correspondent who was among the group interviewing him: "We fought on your side, but I wish the Soviet Union, or government rather, had been contained somewhat."

Wallace declared: "I think the best foreign policy we can have at the present time, with the situation of the Soviets and the Red Chinese, is to be the strongest nation on the face of the earth because the people we're dealing with don't understand anything but strength."

Senate Approves Malpractice Bill By Vote Of 31-3

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A bill guaranteeing malpractice insurance to Michigan doctors needs only House approval on minor amendments before it goes to the governor to become law.

The measure, approved Wednesday 31-3 by the Senate, would create a fund to pay claims against doctors. Physicians say private malpractice is becoming increasingly expensive and sometimes cannot be obtained at all.

Under the measure, a board of directors, appointed by the governor would administer the program, which would be funded ed by premiums from uninsured doctors. If the fund ran low on money, the state would assess other doctors to keep the operation solvent.

Insurance Commissioner Daniel Denlow said Wednesday the state would probably be ready to start issuing policies by the beginning of June.

Some insurance companies are threatening to withdraw policies because of rising numbers of lawsuits against doctors and big settlements.

Shelby Mutual Insurance Co. of Ohio, which insures 2,000 Michigan physicians, has said it will not renew malpractice policies after June 1.

The state insurance pool is designed to keep hundreds of doctors in Michigan. Many have threatened to go elsewhere because of the malpractice insurance problems.

Doctors in high-risk areas such as neurosurgery and anesthesia have been the main targets of rising insurance costs. It is not known how much relief they would get under the new measure.

Coverage would be available to doctors, osteopaths, dentists, podiatrists, nurses, drug dispensers, clinics, hospitals, sanitariums and health maintenance organizations.

Proponents of the measure say it is only a temporary solution to the malpractice problem. Numerous other bills are pending in the legislature.

Awards in malpractice suits would be limited to $200,000 under a bill introduced in the state House.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Ed Fredricks, R-Holland, says $200,000 is the maximum a plaintiff could receive for disability, loss of wages and Financial Bullet Less Chewy In St. Joseph

In common with most cities in Michigan, the St. Joseph charter, adopted in 1928, specifies a fairly rigid method to finance local affairs.

There is a property tax ceiling of 12.5 mills for general operating purposes; a required 0.5 mill and an optional 0.8 mill upper limit for the library; an optional 0.6 mill ceiling for a municipal bond; plus additional millage for other public purposes, for example, a sanitation plant, subject to whatever limitation may be imposed by state law.

This blanket does not overlay a special assessment for paving an alley or similar uses, nor does it ban service fees for water.

The crunch comes in trying to stretch the 12.5 allocation for general functions sufficiently to meet their desired levels.

City hall cannot scratch the band and apply its maximum 0.6 mill availability to the general fund; nor can it cancel the 0.5 mill for street resurfacing and put that tax provider into the general fund.

Until fairly recent times this charter pigeonholing has not been a problem in St. Joseph because the valuation in the tax base kept pace with the cost to run the city.

Some of that increase has been real in the form of new or improved construction industrially and residentially, and re-equipment within the industrial segment.

A part is the somewhat fictional reassessment procedure required by the State Tax Commission.

At this week's city commission meeting, Mayor Franklin Smith acknowledged what has been developing in recent years, namely, the valuation rate is slowing down, actually falling behind the cost escalation.

His Honor suggested lifting the 12.5 lid as the best means for keeping St. Joseph afloat.

The alternatives are cuts in services, a city income tax, or resorting deficit financing.

City hall has pruned a bit on services, but if that route is taken as the only road to matching income with outgo, St. Joseph and its residents would regret its ultimate consequence.

The income tax holds great appeal among city officialdom everywhere, but once adopted, the public will lose any semblance of control over municipal spending.

One has only to look at Washington's miserable record on deficit financing to dismiss that as any kind of solution.

Smith advocates the sound method, to which we feel one further modification should be made.

The taxing power should be consolidated into one rate and the charter's earmarked levies dispensed with.

Earmarked spending and its financing has long been a favorite to accomplish individual purposes. The trouble with it is to-fold: it puts an undue burden upon general purposes; and it encourages more earmarking for additional special purposes, thereby increasing the overall tax load.

Progress In Electronics From Space Program

Electronic miniaturization already has made tremendous strides in compacting huge power sources into small areas. One need only compare some of the earlier computers with today's models to note the effect of increasing improvements in miniaturization even in this already sophisticated area.

This degree of sophistication is but the beginning. A well-developed field of electronic exploration — cryogenics and superconducting devices — promises a revolution in electrical transmission with wide applications.

Superconducting devices are those which eliminate virtually all resistance to electric current. They operate by exposing the conductor to extremely cold temperatures, in the realm of 450 degrees Fahrenheit below zero.

At that temperature, electrical resistance is almost non-existent. The better conductors such as copper or aluminum show a drop of 10,000 to 100,000 in resistance between room temperature and absolute zero. But superconductors such as tin and lead show an even sharper drop in resistance at very low temperatures.

There are two significant advantages to superconducting devices. One is the greater efficiency in electric current transmission by elimination of resistance. A magnet capable of producing a magnetic field of 100,000 gauss, which is 200,000 times the magnetic field of earth, absorbs 3,000 kilowatts of electric energy if operated at room temperatures. But a cryomagnet would require only 120 kilowatts, and a superconducting magnet would need none.

Greatly reduced space requirements are the second advantage. An ordinary copper wire carrying a 20-ampere current is 1/2-inch in diameter. A superconducting wire need only be 1/100th of an inch. Translating this into practical usage means a city's electric power substation would be reduced to the size of a small office.

One of the first applications of such super-magnets was in the weight-conscious space program, and much of the research has been supported by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. But the possibilities for commercial, residential and industrial uses of superconductors are endless.

This is a product of space activities which promises to pay dividends for future generations. More efficient distribution of power is another way of holding down rising energy costs and an excellent reason for developing new electronic sciences as rapidly as possible.

Nice Testimonial

It is with a combination of nostalgia and some pain that the names of Tinian, Saipan and the other small islands which make up the Marianas chain in the Pacific Ocean are recalled. These islands, along with numerous others, were among the stepping stones American forces used to push back the Japanese armies in World War II.

Thirty years later, representatives of the United States and the Northern Marianas have signed the first step of an agreement which could bring the Marianas Commonwealth status. That would place the 15,000 residents of four small islands north of Guam as citizens of the U.S.

Before detractors of the U.S. try to make too much of the move, it should be emphasized that the initiative began with the islanders. The choice is theirs.

WHAT HAPPENED TO JAR LIDS

Editor, The insidious beguilement and rhetoric of our nation's political unit has become masterful. The art of boondoggling has politically and, at times, factually been going on for many years. Consequently, we heedlessly have gone on with our lives, totally apathetic to the fact that this country of ours has headed towards a social democracy — then to socialism.

This so called utopian peace, where everyone is equal, where everyone works collectively, where everything is under government ownership, where despotism controls the people and where no one is allowed to own a gun of any kind, is becoming a reality. If you do not believe this, study the history of any nation that is governed by socialism.

The egoism of many political leaders, small towns to the national leaders, is so mistaken by the people we can no longer point out the good guys from the bad guys.

Like a dove the egocentric politician will tell us how to fight inflation by planting a garden, then through the lieable privileges given to big businesses, the lids to preserve the home grown produce are in short supply.

A simple and hardly discernible conspiracy, insidiously and masterfully done by the insiders (i.e., people who wish to rule the world) is not being able to can the meager produce grown by you because canning lids are not available.

Could there be some "Metal Stamping Factory" within the circulation area of this newspaper to have the guts to manufacture jar lids?

EXPRESSES INDIGNATION

Editor, This letter is to express my indignation at President Ford's bringing untold thousands of Vietnamese into this country.

It is true these people are to be pitied, but since when can we solve the world's problems of homeless and poverty stricken people by bringing them all over here? I didn't see that happen when Biafra and Bangladesh were undergoing their crises.

We already have an overpopulation problem, with millions of people looking for jobs, and more millions on welfare. Bringing in so many thousands more people will only add to our already strained economy. This whole scene leaves me fuming!

The only way this refugee problem would be acceptable to me is by trading the refugees for the millions of people who are citizens and able bodied, but who prefer to use their overly generous welfare laws as breeding programs. At least the Vietnamese would be glad to work and earn their way, which is more than another element, who would rather be parasites.

Thank you for letting me express my opinion — it echoes the sentiments of all I've spoken to. I'm sure this move on Gerald Ford's part has lost him the respect and votes of many citizens.

WANTS MORE COLOMA BOARD PETITIONS

Editor, There are only a few days left in which to get nominating petitions into the office of the Coloma Community Schools if you are thinking of running for a position on the Coloma Board of Education. To date, only Louis Gelder and Kay Erickson, present members of the board whose terms are expiring, have filed, although this information has not as yet been made public.

Mr. Gelder is a resident of the Eaman district, and thanks to Coloma taking this district into their system, property values have increased. Therefore, anyone running for the board from this district, will always go along with the superintendent's wants, because look what he has done for them.

WASHINGTON — Paradoxically, in defeat South Vietnam could give Hanoi stomach cramps.

By conventional standards, with their demonstrated organizing ability, their persistence, their psychological control techniques and ruthless methods, the Northerners should have no trouble digesting the South. They will have a powerful weapon in quickly organized street associations in which families are required to spy on each other and in other extensive informer systems they will expand in the South.

But I wonder all the same. Witness the Soviet Empire. Militarily a super power. Economically a giant. The world's third largest population, after China and India. Yet a series of Kremlin dictators, including Khrushchev and Brezhnev have had to move in strongly with Soviet troops to put down revolts in East Germany, Hungary and Czechoslovakia. Whole populations had to be moved out of Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia, and loyal Russians transferred in to achieve stability in these tiny lands. The Ukraine is so unsteady under the surface that its political commissar told his bosses in the Kremlin the Czech unrest must be settled immediately or it would certainly spread to his territory.

Giant China was able to scuttle the tiny Tibetan population only by ordering all residents out of troubled areas, section by section, shooting anything left that moved, then sending in Chinese settlers.

Communists worldwide have a poor track record in taking over successfully and for long countries whose people have had a taste of freedom, however limited. Russia under the czar was totalitarian; the short intermediate Keresky period was not felt by most. China was a collection of warlords. In North Vietnam, Ho succeeded the French, who almost a century before had suppressed all local freedom. The Communist government did not last long in Chile. The problems in East Europe have been described above.

Despite the corruptness of the Thieu government, the South Vietnamese these past two decades have known more freedom than they'd had for 100 years. Despite a capricious censorship, they have had a far greater chance to speak and write what they chose, to do the work they preferred, to travel where they wished and to associate with whom they pleased than their cousins in the rigidly structured and regimented society of North Vietnam.

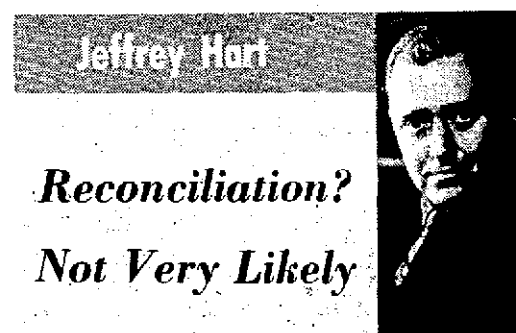

The Viet Cong may be in for a ruder awakening than ordinary citizenry. They have had considerable latitude in guerrilla operations and political operation. Orders came from Hanoi. But Hanoi was far away; now it is next door.

The North, which is poor, will inevitably drain the rich South, creating more hatred.

Hanoi is short of skilled political cadre, so short in fact that it has been having trouble of late in handling dissent in its own areas. There has been no danger to the government. But complaints have been stronger than Hanoi normally accepts with good grace. The war has been a heavy drain on the young, needed to back up its programs.

Remember that the Northerners for a thousand years have been better organized, more ambitious and energetic than the Southern Vietnamese. Historically, they have regularly won in battle. In recorded history, however, they have never been able to hold on to sizable amounts of the South for long.

For there is no love lost between the peoples. Even the southern Viet Cong mistrust Hanoi's regular troops. Saigon politicians mistrust even those in their midst who fled Hanoi's Communist rule. The French found it necessary to divide the land and rule the two areas virtually as separate countries.

Reconciliation? Not Very Likely

In the wake of Vietnam, President Gerald Ford says he wants Americans to "close ranks, avoid recriminations... look ahead to the many new goals we share and work together on the great tasks that remain to be accomplished."

That is a sweet thought, appropriate to a red - white - and - blue - draped platform on a sunny Fourth of July afternoon, but it certainly does not have much to do with the actualities of American life in 1975. The truth is that we are divided on a whole range of issues, some of them profound, and there is small likelihood that we are soon going to close ranks in some kind of era of good feeling.

What happened during the 1960s was that the revolutionary thrust which has split Europe since the 19th century began to make itself felt here.

Many people, of course, came to oppose the Vietnam war on practical grounds, concluding that it was unwinnable, but many, also, from Academy Award-winner Bert Schneider through the obscure radical clique on your local campus supported the Communist side.

I myself am acquainted with many individuals on the college campus who worked as tirelessly as General Giap himself for a Communist triumph. The fact that they have won this particular victory does not mean that they are going to go into ideological retirement. There is no doubt whatsoever that we are soon going to be hearing about the corrupt, repressive governments in Thailand, South Korea, the Philippines, Indonesia, and, no doubt eventually, Japan, Australia, and you name it. It is remarkable with what consistency a government is found to be corrupt and repressive when it becomes the focus of Communist attentions.

Reconciliation? No consensus exists regarding America's role in the world, or about the meaning and value of Western civilization, or about what kind of society it is desirable to have. We are deeply divided, too, on a whole range of issues concerning morality and cultural style. As ever, we have a strong undercurrent of "nuts to the foreigner" isolationism that has been energized by the Vietnam debacle, but we also now have something rather more ominous. A substantial segment of opinion regards America as a violent predator on the world scene, an over-consuming neo-imperialist polluter. This segment of opinion regards America with puritanical scorn and applauds every American setback, especially those at the hands of Third World nations.

At loggerheads with such a view are those who reply that Americans consume because they also produce, that with one per cent of the world's farm population we produce 20 per cent of its food; and that if we "consume" the world's raw materials, we re-export them as technology. If America disappeared tomorrow, the standard of living in the Third World would surely decline precipitously.

Again, a substantial body of opinion in this country favors some variant of the socialist model of society. Scandinavian, Marxist, or whatever. This is a minority preference, but it is increasingly public and articulate. Enroute to that goal, this body of opinion favors every increasing taxation and absorption of resources by the public sector.

Others, still certainly a majority, look upon such a course as the road to serfdom and wish to mount an immediate attack on the burgeoning Federal bureaucracy.

ASSAULTS SHOCK, ANGER BH MAYOR

Benton Harbor Mayor Charles F. Joseph issued a statement of "shock and anger" over assaults and robberies of senior citizens in their homes.

Four homes in Benton Harbor were invaded Monday and

Joseph Asks Public To Aid Police

Tuesday by thugs and five elderly residents were injured as their dwellings were ransacked. One of the victims was an 85-year-old woman who was raped and tied to a chair. She was not discovered until more than 12 hours after the assault when a neighbor heard cries for help.

The victims were white people, from 66 to 88 years old. The assailants in all cases were described as two young black men. Descriptions of the assailants' clothing and physical characteristics varied.

In his statement, Mayor Joseph said the city must get rid of thugs with such "animalistic" behavior. He called on the public to supply the police with information.

Following is the complete text of the mayor's statement:

"I am shocked and angry at the deplorable incidents involving our Senior Citizens. These acts are acts of persons who have demonstrated what appears to be an insane act and the lack of any human decency.

"Must rid city of persons who have demonstrated such animalistic behavior"

These crimes must not be permitted to continue or be left unsolved and unpunished.

"For anyone to violate the rights of any citizen, and especially Senior Citizens such as has happened during the past 72 hours is despicable and must be apprehended and put away behind bars. We as citizens and neighbors must get rid of these persons who have demonstrated such animalistic behavior before they have a chance to injure, harm, or rob anyone else.

"I call on every citizen to rise to the urgent needs to help one another. To work together in providing assistance to our Senior Citizens, as well as anyone else. We cannot afford to continue a lack of interest and involvement in cleaning our streets of persons who commit criminal acts of any kind.

"I am pleading to every citizen, let's put a stop to what appears to be a well-planned, well-organized effort to carry out criminal acts and to deprive other citizens of their lawful right to lead a safe, comfortable and secure life in this city.

"Therefore, I further urge all citizens who may have information on any or all incidents to contact Chief Andrew Rodez, Benton Harbor Police Department, and to come together in a joint effort to deal with this social disease by providing neighborhood watch, reporting strange acts or persons in your neighborhoods and using safeguards to protect your property and our neighborhoods.

"We must stop these senseless acts of crime and restore safety and security for every citizen. Everyone must share the responsibility in creating a climate so that every person's right to live in this city is protected. If we do not get involved — we, too, can become a victim.

"I am asking for your help in putting a stop to a very critical problem before someone else is robbed or harmed.

"In addition, I urge the City Commission to take whatever actions necessary to stop the harmful and deliberate abuse of our citizens, and the police department to take whatever actions necessary to apprehend the person or persons responsible, including getting assistance from other police agencies."

UPTURN BY FALL

Henry Ford II Sees Better Times Ahead

By OWEN ULLMANN
Associated Press Writer
DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) —

Things are looking better for the world economy in general and the Ford Motor Co. in particular.

That's the message Henry Ford II is giving today to his firm's stockholders.

"Many forecasts indicate the economy should turn up by fall," the Ford Motor Co. board chairman said in prepared remarks.

"Inventories have been falling toward a level that assures a rise in new orders that will put people back to work," he said. "Purchasing power is also being strengthened by tax cuts, by a sharp decline in the rate of inflation, by a large increase in the money supply and a decline in short-term interest rates.

"As a result, consumer confidence is slowly improving," he said.

Ford said the No. 2 automaker should turn a profit in the current quarter, in sharp contrast to the $98 million loss in the first quarter. An accounting change for investment tax credits reduced first quarter net losses to $10.6 million, still the first red ink for Ford in eight years.

Ford told his stockholders that the first quarter loss stemmed in part from the company's inability to boost prices because of sluggish sales.

"In today's depressed and intensely competitive vehicle market, it has been impossible to raise prices sufficiently to offset continuing cost increases," he said.

"Ford did not rule out a price boost for the 1974 models.

General Motors and Chrysler Corp. already have indicated that price increases on their 1974 models this fall are inevitable to offset rising costs. Industry analysts expect 1974 prices to go up about 3 per cent or $150 compared with the 10 per cent or $170 hikes added to the 1973 models when they were introduced.

In his prepared text, the auto magnate also blasted various auto fuel economy bills being studied by Congress. He said the measures go too far, too fast and would increase costs to consumers.

Ford warned the bills would "force people into vehicles unsuited to their needs, depress car sales, increase car imports, drain financial resources of the auto industry and cost the jobs of many thousands."

He said a national energy policy should try to reduce overall oil consumption and not hit on new-car fuel use alone.

Berrien Walkathon May Raise $16,000

The first annual March of Dimes Walkathon is expected to raise almost $16,000 by the 625 people who finished the 15-mile walk from the Berrien County Courthouse to Lakeshore high school, Stevensville and back, last Saturday.

Chairman Stan Chisek said pledges totaling $15,700 were registered by the 650 people entering the event.

Of that total, Chisek estimated 625 walked the entire 15 miles. The Walkathon was sponsored by Berrien County Chapter of the March of Dimes.

Now the walkers will go back to the people from whom they obtained pledges and pick up the money. They will show the donor maps indicating they checked in at the various check points.

Chisek said at the height of the walkathon there was a 10-mile line of walkers. It took about four hours to walk from the courthouse to Cleveland avenue, down Cleveland to Lakeshore high school, across John Beers to Stevensville and back to the courthouse via Red Arrow highway.

Checkpoints were located at Grace Lutheran school, St. Paul's Lutheran school and two service stations.

Chisek admitted walkathon chairmen were surprised at the turnout and the amount of funds expected to be raised.

'No New Leads' In Benton Girl's Death

Berrien Prosecutor John A. Smietanka yesterday said there are still "no new leads" into the death of a 17-year-old Benton township girl whose badly decomposed body was found in a pine grove in Berrien township April 1. He again appealed for anyone with information in the case to contact authorities.

"We're no closer to an arrest now than we were a month ago," Smietanka commented on the investigation into the death of Laverne Cornelius, a Benton Harbor high school senior who disappeared Feb. 7. Her body was found by two teenagers along True road near M-140. Police still theorize that the girl was murdered.

Smietanka said police and his office are interviewing people, and "we feel they know more than they're telling us. Either they haven't come forward (with information) or didn't tell the whole story to police," the prosecutor noted.

Smietanka again asked for public assistance in obtaining information from anyone who might have seen the girl or might have seen or heard unusual things on Feb. 7 in the area where the girl's body was later found.

He urged persons with any type of information to contact state police at Benton Harbor or Niles, or Benton township police.

Smietanka previously said the girl, who was pregnant at the time of her death, was last seen around 6 p.m. Feb. 7 when she left the home of her father, Robert E. Cornelius, 1923 Eastland, Benton township. The prosecutor said it is believed the girl received a telephone call shortly before she left the family home.

Community Concerts Concluding Season Saturday

BOSTON SYMPHONY CHAMBER PLAYERS

The final concert of the Community Concerts Association of Southwest Michigan's current season will be presented by the Boston Symphony Chamber Players Saturday, May 10, at 8 p.m. at Lakeshore high school auditorium.

The Boston Symphony Chamber Players are composed of 12 members of the Boston Symphony orchestra and are the principals of the string, woodwind and brass sections with a solo timpanist.

The group was formed in 1964 and has traveled to Europe and Russia as well as in the United States.

They have received many awards including the Grammy award. In addition to concerts and recording, the group presents master classes and workshops in universities.

The repertoire of the Chamber Players spans three centuries of music for small ensembles.

The International Herald Tribune of Paris has said of the group, "...listening to these 12 players-making music with and for each other would finally have dismantled the persistent notion that the great American orchestras are sound machines of heartless perfection. The perfection was there all right, but inseparable from the music's inner impulse."

Members of the group are Joseph Silverstein, violin; Burton Fine, viola; Jules Eskin, cello; Henry Portnoi, bass;

Memberships Available

A limited number of memberships are still available for the 1975-76 season of Community Concerts Association of Southwest Michigan, according to Mrs. Robert Sykora, president.

Memberships are $10 for adults and $5 for students. Memberships also entitle concertgoers to attend concerts presented in Holland and Michigan City and LaPorte, Ind. No tickets are sold during the concert season.

Those wishing to obtain memberships may contact Mrs. Sykora or Mrs. Thomas Keizer.

Purchasers of 1975-76 season tickets may use their receipts to attend the Saturday, May 10, concert by the Boston Symphony Chamber Players at Lakeshore high school auditorium at 8 p.m.

Special Word: 'Mother'

Quick. When did you say or hear the word "mother" last? Some time today, probably. If not, you'll surely use the word many times before Mother's Day rolls around on Sunday, May 11.

Researcher Sally Hopkins says "Mother" is one of the most used words in the language. And not just in English. Frenchmen say "mere," Germans say "mutter," Greeks say "meter" and Spaniards and Italians say "mama" about as often as Americans do in their mother tongue.

"Mother is a fundamental word, basic to every language," says Miss Hopkins. "In English it has inspired dozens of expressions, songs and show titles and scores of literary quotations."

Abraham Lincoln, for instance, once said: "All that I owe to my angel mother." Thackeray wrote: "Mother is the name for God in the lips and hearts of little children." And, "a mother is not a person to lean on," wrote Dorothy Canfield Fisher, "but a person to make leaning unnecessary."

Everyday expressions like mother love, mother country, mother wit and mother lode are staples of conversation. "And every kid knows Mother Hubbard, Mother Goose and Whistler's Mother," Miss Hopkins says, "just as they know that necessity is the mother of invention, which first was said by Richard Franck in 1658."

Youngsters may be less sure that "Diligence is the mother of good fortune" (Benjamin Franklin) and "Leisure is the mother of philosophy" (Thomas Hobbes). But if they're smart they know that Missouri is "Mother of the West" and that two other states claim to be "Mother of Presidents"—Ohio, the birthplace of seven presidents, and Virginia, where eight former presidents were born.

One thing more is sure about that familiar word, "mother," —it will appear in one form or another on every one of the 200 million or more Mother's Day cards that will go through the mails this year.

Prices For Several Budgets

Autumn Fashions

By JURATE KAZICKAS
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — As hard as it is to get by in these tight money days, the fact remains that clothes that cost twice as much usually look twice as good. But that doesn't mean that dressing for half the price means a compromise of fashion verve and style.

Calvin Klein's outfits, such as fur lined rain coats and long matching coats over pants suits and silk blouses worn with silk jackets, cost well into the hundreds of dollars. Clovis Ruffin's sweater dresses and coats and corduroy pants suits sell for under $80.

Both designers, who presented their fall collections Tuesday, have enough great looks to appeal to any fashion budget.

Ruffin uses inexpensive materials like denim in coat dresses and jumpers and corduroy for blazers, pants, and even one long evening skirt, buttoned up the front. The colors are delectable in shades of powder blue, mint green, and mauve. A camel-colored shirt dress looked special with an attached hood.

A selection of black silky cocktail dresses included one slit up the side with buttons and a shirt waist, both with thin silver belts.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

It's Better Than Hijacking

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing in response to "Irrked at la Guardia." I, too, am a frequent traveler, being a flight attendant for a major airline.

A few years ago I had the unfortunate experience of being hijacked. It was the most terrifying thing that has ever happened to me. We were completely at the mercy of a gun-wielding maniac. If the security check system had been in effect at that time it would have saved 120 passengers and eight crew members (not to mention their families and friends) a great deal of agony.

I'd like to say to "Irrked," if the security check system irritates you so much why don't you check your baggage in cargo? Anyone who has been on a plane for 14 hours without food, water and working toilets and spent a night in Cuba, will agree with me it's no fun.

So please don't knock the system until you have been subjected to the alternative. — Diverted

Dear D.: Amen, Friend. As another frequent traveler I'm delighted the airlines are checking hand luggage. I admit, however, that I'm partial to airlines that use X-ray equipment. This precludes digging around in purses and tote bags.

Write Him Off

Dear Ann Landers: For the past seven months I have been dating an unwed father. Perry is 21 years old. (I am 20.) His baby is six months old and he is crazy about her. He was engaged to marry the mother but they couldn't get along and the engagement was broken twice. He still sees her because he is so wild about the child.

Perry's parents have been on his back a lot since the baby was born. They want him to marry the girl and work out their differences later. This is their only grandchild and they are crazy about the little girl, too.

Everything was fine until two months ago when I had to leave town to take care of my sister's children. She needed surgery and I offered to help out. When I returned to town, Perry said his feelings toward me had changed and we could never go back to where we were. I love the guy and want things back to normal. I'm sure when I was away the baby's mother got to him and this is where the trouble started.

Will you please tell me how to get Perry to marry me? I know he loves me and not the mother of his child. He has told me so a dozen times. — Perry's Girl

Dear Girl: Sorry, but you're fighting a losing battle — actually if you lose this one you win.

An unwilling groom makes a very poor husband. Perry would be forever going back to the other woman in order to see his child. This would be the source of never-ending arguments between you two. My advice is to write off Perry NOW and save yourself a lot of heartache.

Dr. Lester Coleman

I once accidentally stabbed my chin with a sharp pencil. The black spot remains. Is there any way it can be removed?

Mrs. J.K., Ohio

Dear Mrs. W.: Septal perforations may be caused by chronic nose picking. They occasionally follow difficult operations on the septum. In rare instances, a perforation may be due to a birth defect. Crusting and dryness of the nose, especially around the hole you describe, make surgical repair difficult.

Poor blood supply around the edges of the opening is also responsible for difficulty in using grafts in this area.

Each case must be individually evaluated before surgery is contemplated. In general, the results have not been as gratifying as they should be.

DR. LESTER COLEMAN has prepared a special booklet entitled "Alcoholism — A Family Disease." It probes this grave problem and offers hopeful advice. For your copy, send 25 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed envelope to Lester L. Coleman, M.D. (Alcoholism booklet), P.O. Box 5178, Grand Central Station, New York City 10017. Please mention the booklet by title.

Utilities Paid Auditors' Hotel Bills, Report Says

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Three utility companies paid hotel bills for eight state auditors assigned to scrutinize the firms' records in 1972-73, a state report shows.

The hotel bills were paid by Alpena Power Co., Edison-Sault Electric Co. and the Michigan Power Co., according to records from a report compiled by Auditor General Albert Lee.

The hotel bills came to more than $800, but the exact amount is unknown, said Joe Barden, assistant deputy director for finance, accounts and valuation at the Public Service Commission.

The utilities paid for visits by three or four auditors on a total of 34 nights at various hotels in Alpena, Sault Ste. Marie and Three Rivers. Eight auditors were involved.

Under state rules they should have billed the state for the expense instead of allowing the utilities to pick up the tab, said Lee.

The utilities ultimately pay the tab anyway because the state assesses them to recoup charges as a regulatory expense borne by business. In these cases, however, the utilities paid the bills directly with no state involvement.

"This looks lousy, and we've changed our policy," said Barden. "We aren't doing it anymore."

"To avoid any unwarranted suspicion of lack of independence on the part of the commission staff, we recommend that all staff members pay their own lodging and submit travel expense vouchers for reimbursement in accordance with ... state ... travel regulations," says the auditor general's report.

The eight auditors, all still employed by the commission, are identified in documents as Robert Mogis, William Pelouquin, Robert Maihofer, Leonard Holst, Ed Carlson, Charles Geyer, James Mendenhall and Robert Riley.

Four auditors stayed five nights in a hotel in Three Rivers. The Michigan Power Co. picked up the tab after one auditor ran out of money and asked the utility to pick up the expense, said Barden.

"It was either stay on the job or go back to Lansing," said Barden.

Two auditors stayed 12 nights at a hotel in Sault Ste. Marie and the Edison-Sault Electric Co. paid their bill, said Barden.

Three auditors stayed five nights in May 1973 at a hotel in Alpena which was owned and operated by the same businessmen who ran the Alpena Power Co.

Three auditors stayed 12 nights in May 1973 under the

Livonia Sues Consumers For Refusal To Sell Gas

LIVONIA, Mich. (AP) — The city of Livonia has filed a $50 million suit against Consumers Power Co. for refusing to supply natural gas to new industrial and commercial customers.

Judge James N. Canham scheduled a May 23 hearing on the suit in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Livonia Mayor Edward H. McNamara charged the Consumers' policy on new natural gas customers is a "clear and flagrant violation" of the utility's contract to provide gas for the city.

A spokesman for the Jackson-based utility said it is not accepting new natural gas accounts for businesses anywhere in the state because of a gas shortage.

The firm said it has not started service for any big industrial users for several years and stopped taking applications from smaller commercial users in January.

"Livonia is being treated equitably with all communities served under our gas allocation policy approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission," the spokesman said.

He said limits on gas sales were needed because Consumers' two major suppliers, Trunkline Gas Co. and Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co., are not providing all the gas they should.

The law suit contends Consumers has "breached its 30-year contract by operating in an improper and inefficient manner."

The city is seeking a court order compelling Consumers to provide natural gas service to "all segments of the public."

"We're a fast-growing community," said McNamara. "The second worst thing to having no gas at all is to be backed into a non-competitive position because other communities are being serviced by another utility at lower rates."

The Consumers spokesman said several Detroit suburbs have reviewed their agreements with the utility in recent years but that none have switched to other firms.

He said the suburbs are concerned because Consumers is running short on gas while Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., which serves the city of Detroit, has adequate supplies.

ALL 64 U.S. PLANTS IN JULY

Ford Will Shutdown For Vacations

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. will shut all of its 64 U.S. assembly and manufacturing plants for two or three weeks in July for worker vacations, the company said Wednesday.

Ford said it will be the first time the firm has closed all its plants at virtually the same time.

A company spokesman said Ford is taking the unusual action because the current sales slump will not require continuous production through the end of the model year.

The spokesman said changeovers for new model production will take place later in the summer. A schedule of change-over downtime was not immediately available.

The spokesman added the vacation shutdown schedule is not due to the recent drop in car sales. Deliveries in April remained at a 14-year low.

"We scheduled this vacation time last December," he said. "Obviously sales are low this year, and that's why we're doing this. If sales were running like in the boom years of 1973 and 1972, we'd be scheduling overtime."

General Motors and Chrysler have not announced vacation or change-over shutdowns this summer.

Ford Vice President Donald Bastian said all 17 assembly plants would close for two weeks, beginning July 14.

He said the Canton, Ohio, forge plant would close for two weeks, beginning June 30, while the other 46 manufacturing plants would be down two or three weeks beginning either July 7 or 14.

He said the shutdown plan was scheduled after a majority of members in each UAW local approved July vacations.

Seven Ford assembly plants were shut for vacations during the same two-week period last year.

The United Auto Workers union said its contract with Ford allows the company to either shut an entire plant for a two-week vacation period if a majority of workers approve the move, or keep the plant open and grant vacations on an individual basis.

Ford's vacation shutdowns cuts production without additional layoffs.

All auto companies have been shutting plants and laying off workers for varying periods this year to keep production in line with slow sales.

This week, 28,550 of Ford's 174,000 hourly workers are on layoff, including 20,660 who are on open-ended furlough.

AMC Loss May Be Auto Record

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. lost a record $47.8 million in the first three months of 1975, throwing the nation's auto industry into what probably is its largest overall loss in history.

AMC's quarterly loss of $1.60 a share, reported Wednesday, was substantially greater than the $15 million deficit forecast by financial analysts.

AMC Chairman Roy D. Chapin Jr. blamed the loss on depressed sales, higher material and labor costs, price relate expenses and the cost of introducing the new Pacer.

However, Chapin was optimistic about the future of the industry and predicted AMC will turn a profit in the second half of its fiscal year. The firm has just ended its first sixmonth period or the year.

AMC is the third car company to report losses during the January-March period. The industry had combined net losses of $94 million in the quarter and before-tax losses of $274 million.

Although pre-World War II financial records are incomplete, analysts said the loss was the industry's first since the Great Depression, and losses exceeding $200-million almost certainly would be the worst ever.

The unprecedented red ink compares with weak aggregate profits of $253 million a year ago and record earnings of $1.3 billion in 1973.

General Motors, the only auto maker to turn a profit in the first quarter, earned $39 million, its smallest return in 29 years.

Chrysler Corp. had a record

$118.9 million loss in the first quarter, but tax credits cut the loss to $94 million, still a record.

Ford Motor Co. used similar credits to reduce a $98 million loss to $10.6 million, its first quarterly loss in eight years.

AMC has operated in the red for three straight quarters. The firm lost $5.6 million in the October-December period, the first quarter of its 1975 fiscal year, and $7 million in the July-September period, when it was shutdown by a two-week national strike.

AMC's total losses in the nine months since last July are $60.4 million.

The firm's previous record loss for a quarter was in 1967, when it lost $27.8 million in the July-September period. AMC finished the year with record losses of $76 million.

The loss compares with earnings of $6.9 million in the same year-ago quarter.

Wallace Honor Irks Archbishop

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Roman Catholic archbishop of Washington criticized on Wednesday the since-abandoned plans by a parochial high school to honor Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace with an award for service to education.

Archbishop William W. Baum said in a statement that he had to "question the wisdom of a Catholic institution choosing to honor a man whose position in reference to Christian teachings on social justice is questionable at best, controversial at least and reprehensible at worst."

Brother Charles Gresh, president of St. John's College High School, had planned to present the award to Wallace at a dinner Friday night. The offer of the award was withdrawn following protests from numerous church groups critical of Wallace's segregationist past, but the governor still is scheduled to speak at the banquet.

Prober Insists Gulf Tell All About Donation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Church says Gulf Oil Corp.'s chief executive will be called to testify publicly next week about who received $4 million in political donations from the company.

"We must insist on full disclosure," said Church, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on multinational corporations. A hearing is set for May 16.

Gulf Chairman Bob R. Dorsey publicly assured the governments of Venezuela and Ecuador on Wednesday that those nations were not involved in the $4 million gifts.

Venezuela had threatened to end Gulf's business operations in the country if Gulf officials did not say by 6 p.m. EDT today whether or not Venezuelan officials were involved. Ecuador also made inquiries.

Bolivia also set a 48-hour deadline Wednesday night and threatened to halt payment of an estimated $50 million still pending in indemnities for Gulf property taken over in 1969 if the company does not clarify whether Bolivians were involved. The ultimatum was announced following a special cabinet meeting called by President Hugo Banzer.

Informed sources said they could only speculate about where the money went because Dorsey has so far refused to identify the recipients and has left few clues about who they might be. Japan, the Philippines, Nigeria, South Korea and Italy are considered possibilities.

The political gifts were disclosed publicly last week when the Wall Street Journal published excerpts from secret testimony Dorsey had given to investigators for the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Dorsey said Gulf paid $1 million in 1966 and $3 million in 1973 to politicians in an unnamed country. He said the money was paid under pressure, so Gulf could continue its business operations there.

The Journal suggested the money might have been paid in Latin America, which prompted the inquiries from Venezuela, Bolivia and Ecuador.

Church said his subcommittee also had questioned Dorsey and that Dorsey wouldn't tell them where the money went, either.

Church said the subcommittee then asked the State Department if it had any objection to a full-blown investigation of the matter. He said the State Department replied that it had no objection.

He said the subcommittee also would probe overseas payments made by United Brands and by Northrop Corp. United Brands has admitted paying $1.25 million to an official in Honduras to get a banana export tax reduced. Northrop is fighting to keep secret details of "commissions" and other payments it made overseas in connection with arms sales to foreign governments.

'ROUND' HOUSE: Students in occupational education program at Andrews university, Berrien Springs, are completing an 18-sided house on Lake road, half a mile north of Berrien Center. Home being built for Dr. John Berecz, an AU assistant professor of psychology, appears to be virtually round. Director of project, Farrell Gilliland, Sr., AU assistant professor of carpentry and masonry, said no room in house is square and bricks, shingles, sheetrock, and rafters had to be custom cut to fit unusual angles. Home has three bedrooms, two bathrooms, and a floor space of 1,256 square feet. Construction is expected to be completed by June.

Charges Phony, Claims Kent Commissioner

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — A Kent County commissioner says his efforts to expose a phony real estate deal led to charges he tried to murder a Colombian taxi driver.

Stephen Kishkorn told the Grand Rapids Press in a telephone interview Wednesday he is innocent of the attempted murder and possession of marijuana charges.

Kishkorn, 35, was arrested April 30. He said he was on San Andres Island, a Colombian possession, to complete purchase of property.

He claimed the deal was a "fraud."

"When I tried to expose the corruption, the world fell in around me," he said.

Elizabeth Hagerty of the U.S. State Department's Security and Consular Affairs section in Washington gave more details of the charges.

She reported Kishkorn is charged with trying to shoot the taxi driver after reportedly trying to force him at gunpoint to take the commissioner to another town on the island.

Miss Hagerty said the police report indicates the driver took Kishkorn around the block, stopped in front of the island police station and ran.

Miss Hagerty added that Kishkorn is charged with firing at the driver as he fled. She said a search of the commissioner supposedly resulted in the discovery of marijuana.

Kishkorn said his hearing before a judge was slated to end Wednesday after three days of testimony. He was represented by William Reamon, a Grand Rapids lawyer, who called several defense witnesses.

"If the judge believes the evidence, I will go free," Kishkorn contended.

"You know I don't go around shooting people," he added. "But I think I've got a chance because all the charges are phony."

Ford's Decision On Handguns Disliked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of those who favor gun control object to President Ford's decision not to recommend handgun registration and say registration is a compromise approach compared to proposals calling for a flat ban on the manufacture of cheap handguns.

On the other hand, a major opponent of gun controls, the National Rifle Association, said Wednesday it was heartened by Ford's statement on gun control at his Tuesday night news conference.

Ford said he "was not going to recommend the registration of gun owners and I am not going to recommend the registration of guns or handguns ... If we can find some responsible ways to do it other than that approach, we certainly will consider them."

A congressional expert on gun control said Ford was still looking at the gun control issue "the same way as when he was a representative and registration was an extreme."

"That's not right," he continued. "Extreme is the Hart-Bingham bill. Registration is the compromise."

That bill introduced by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Rep.

Jonathan B. Bingham, D-N.Y., includes language that would ban the manufacture, sale, transportation and ownership of handguns.

A leading congressional Republican supporter of handgun registration said he was disappointed with Ford's position against registration.

Rep. Robert McClory, R-Ill., a member of the House Judiciary subcommittee on crime, which held hearings on gun control earlier this year, said he wants to see a registration bill passed.

McClory said he has been in touch with the White House Domestic Council on the gun control issue and intends to communicate again with the council and the President. McClory said he will tell them that the federal government already requires a form of registration under the 1968 gun control act.

The 1968 law requires handgun manufacturers and dealers to keep records of sales at their places of business.

"So the only thing that I am supporting is some kind of legislative change that would make that information more readily available to the federal government and local and state law enforcement agencies," McClory said. A draft of a bill he is preparing calls for handgun registration but not the licensing of their owners.

Subcommittee Chairman John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., had no comment about the President's remarks.

At his news conference Ford described as a "unique approach" Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi's recent proposals that handgun ownership be prohibited in high-crime areas.

Ford said Levi's approach "is being discussed with the Department of Justice within our own Domestic Council. But there is no firm decision on whether that approach or any other approach is the right way to meet the problem."

The National Rifle Association said it was "heartened by the fact that the President has not endorsed the proposal of Mr. Levi or any other antigun proposal."

"The way to deal with the crime problem in the country is to properly enforce existing laws ... and the reform of the system of criminal justice," an NRA spokesman said.

Army Says Word Is 'Treatment'

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you ask the U.S. Army how many pest birds they exterminated earlier this year in the area of Ft. Campbell, Ky., you'll be given a report on "treatments."

The Army, it is understood, doesn't like the word "extermination" in connection with its spraying of the flocks with Tergitol, which strips the bird's protective oil, allowing them to die of exposure.

Gasoline Prices Up

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — The price of regular gasoline has risen nine-tenths of one cent since April 1 along major tourist routes, the Michigan Auto Club reports. The club's weekly "fuel gauge" survey of 300 stations along major roadways shows regular costs an average of 58.7 cents per gallon, ranging from 64.9 to 49.9 cents. No-lead gasoline at the same stations rose three-tenths of one cent to an average of 58.4 cents per gallon, ranging in price from 66.9 to 49.9 cents.

Land Owners Apply For 'Reward'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Almost 2,000 rural land owners have applied for state tax breaks as a reward for not turning their property into shopping malls and apartment complexes, state officials said. A law passed last year allows farmers or other owners of open lands to sign a contract with the state for ten years or more, promising to maintain the rural character of their property. The law is especially important around cities, where urban sprawl threatens to gobble up farm land, officials say.

Oakland County has the most requests, 225, for the tax break application forms. However, many of these applications may be from Oakland County residents who own undeveloped acreage in northern Michigan, said Karl Hosford, director of the state Department of Natural Resources office of land use.

In return for a land owner's promise not to cave in to lucrative offers from development firms, the State Tax Commission re-appraises the land at its value as farmland or open land and property taxes are based on this value. In the past, many farmers were financially crippled by skyrocketing tax assessments based upon their land's "potential" value as a commercial property such as a shopping center. If, after this revaluation, the land owner's property taxes exceed seven per cent of his total household income, the state will refund the taxes over that amount to the farmer. Farmers in the program also are exempt from assessments for sewer, water and other utility services which are not intended to serve their property.

Beating Witness Afraid To Name Five Assailants

DETROIT (AP) — A woman who witnessed the savage beating of a young substitute teacher says she knows who the assailants are but won't identify them for fear they will turn on her family.

The woman, a teachers' aide at Barbour Junior High School, said she saw a group of about five youths attack Terry Epton, 26, as he was walking from the school to a bus stop. Classroom discipline by Epton apparently sparked the attack.

Students identified the attackers as five former Barbour pupils, said Jack Reiter, who aided none of the students will appear in court to testify.

Epton was hospitalized for 10 days after the attack.

By God, they did a job on him," the aide said. "If you identified them, they would come back for you."

"I'm not afraid of these kids but I've got children and I send my children out every day," she said. "You (other teachers) get in your cars and drive home every day — away from here."

Epton, who is 5-feet-7 and weighs 120 pounds, said he was knocked to the ground, kicked repeatedly in the head and knocked unconscious.

The school administration said stronger safety precautions are being planned. Security coordinator Fred Durhal promised he could end the violence.

Urges Officials To Cut Salaries

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County's elected officials should take a 10 per cent pay cut and its employees should forego raises, a county commissioner says.

Tom Taylor, a Westland Democrat, said the moves should be made to eliminate a deficit and avoid layoffs. County commissioners now make $14,000 for part-time posts. Employees are slated to get a 4.5 per cent wage increase and a cost-of-living allowance.

medical care and hospitalization.

Currently, suits can be filed for any amount and damages frequently exceed $1 million. Doctors say large malpractice settlements is a major cause of skyrocketing malpractice insurance costs.

Quick legislative approval is expected for a bill that would create a state insurance pool for doctors who cannot buy malpractice coverage anywhere else. The bill already has won House approval, 98-3.

The state Supreme Court last week ordered lawyers not to take more than 33 per cent from malpractice suits.

Gun Editorials Ordered As Part Of Sentence

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) —

An attorney says plea bargaining resulted in a judge's order that a weekly newspaper editor mount an editorial campaign against the illegal use of guns as part of a sentence for illegal possession of a gun and knife.

Superior Court Judge Richard F. Connors suspended 18-month prison terms on Wednesday for Alfredo Izaguirre Horta, 44, the editor and president of the Spanish-language newspaper El Mundo de Hoy, and Antonio Angel Parajon, 49, a photographer for the New York paper.

Then he placed them on three years probation on the condition that they institute an editorial campaign to aid "in the prevention of crime with guns."

Connors made no specific recommendations as to the length, duration and scope of the editorial campaign, but he instructed the defendants to submit copies of the newspapers containing the editorial materials.

Jose Antonio Chiclana, attorney for the defendants, said later the unusual sentence "was no surprise to us." He characterized it as being part of a "plea bargaining agreement" and said he did not object to the sentence.

Chiclana told newsmen Connors was "a great judge" who looked "at the case from a philosophical viewpoint." The attorney said there is a great need for editorial campaigns against the illegal use of guns.

Judge Connors declined to comment on the ruling, except to confirm what he had announced in the courtroom.

El Mundo de Hoy began publishing about a year ago, and a spokesman said its circulation, in the New York area, is about 25,000.

Horta, a former president of the New York chapter of the Association of Cuban Journalists in Exile, and Parajon were arrested last Sept. 15 in Union City on a traffic violation. According to police, the arresting officer spotted a revolver and knife in the car.

On April 7, both men pleaded guilty to charges of illegal possession of the weapons.

Horta told the court before sentencing that he was a leader of the anti-Castro community in the New York-New Jersey area. He said he carried weapons because his life had been threatened on numerous occasions.

Connors said he sympathized with Horta, but the judge said the law was firm and definite.

Castro Urges Embargo's End

for opposing the war in Vietnam.

After his official talk with Castro Tuesday night, McGovern said he had understood there were nine Americans who McGovern said could be considered "political prisoners."

Asked about this, Castro avoided direct reference to the Americans, but said the question of prisoners who engaged in "sabotage and other counterrevolutionary steps" is an internal matter for Cuba to resolve.

But Castro said about 80 per cent of the prisoners had been released before fulfilling their entire sentences. He said "counterrevolutionary actions are dropping off" and indicated this could be a factor in the release of more prisoners in the future.

He said Cuba would never rejoin the Organization of American States, which is meeting in Washington this week to debate its own sanctions against Cuba. He said, "The best action the OAS could take would be to dissolve itself" because of its role "as an instrument of American domination" in Latin American affairs.

Castro dismissed suggestions that a national congress meeting to draft a constitution for Cuba to institutionalize the revolution might result in diminishing his own power.

But he added, "I'd be the last person to oppose any diminishing of my work and responsibility. I would be glad to have some" of this workload transferred to others.

GM Pay Fund Running Dry

DETROIT (AP) — A special unemployment fund at General Motors Corp. is running out this week, slashing jobless benefits in half for 55,000 laid off blue-collar employees. GM said Wednesday its Supplemental Unemployment Benefit (SUB) fund has been exhausted by extensive layoffs, many dating back more than a year. GM said it has paid out $400 million in SUB since January 1974. In the past month, GM has paid out an average $10 million a week, while only $1.4 million went into the fund's coffers. The company puts 12 cents in the fund for each hour each worker spends on the job.

Chevy To Make Changes

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet says it will drop several current models this fall to make room for two new small entries. "We are going to do some deprioritization in the interests of greater efficiency," said Robert D. Lund, general manager of the Chevrolet Division of General Motors. He did not say which models or how many would be dropped, although he indicated at least one full-size model may be discontinued. Chevrolet, the biggest car division in the industry, currently has eight car lines and 50 basic models. The 50th model, being introduced this weekend, is the Monza Town Coupe, a new version of the current Monza 2 Plus 2 hatchback.

Hospital Employee Coverage

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Hospital workers would receive additional protection from lawsuits under a bill approved by the Michigan House and sent to the Senate. The measure approved Wednesday, 94-10, says hospital workers are not liable for civil damages for emergency care they perform outside their assigned areas of expertise unless they are grossly negligent or commit willful misconduct. The bill would apply to doctors, nurses and other hospital workers.

Midland 'Bomber' Sentenced

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP) — Thomas L. Hintz, 36, was sentenced Wednesday to a 15-25 year prison term for placing a bomb in a Midland policeman's home. Midland County Circuit Court Judge James R. Rood said that sentence and another 15-25 year term for conspiracy to murder are to run concurrently. Hintz's cousin, Lawrence, 34, also is serving 15-25 years in Southern Michigan Prison for conspiring to murder an investigator for the Midland County prosecutor's office. The Hintz cousins were convicted and sentenced on the conspiracy charge in January.

Consumer Protection Bill

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A major consumer protection bill to guard against deceptive trade practices was reported out of the Senate Judiciary Committee on Wednesday. The bill's travels through the legislature are expected to be long and difficult, and Gov. William Milliken's consumer aide predicted an eventual conference committee would have to iron out Senate-House differences. Similar measures have failed in each of the past nine years. An object of intense lobbying by business and consumers groups, the bill defines and forbids various deceptive and unfair trade practices, including misleading advertising, deceptive collection practices, misrepresenting goods and other activities.

Donations For Trip Van Buren Returns Dancers' Generosity

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — For nearly 25 years the Van Buren Folk Dancers have been helping others, and now the area community is returning the favor.

Nearly $2,000 of an estimated $2,800 needed to send a group of the dancers on a 23-day performing tour of Poland this summer has been raised since early March.

About $20,000 of that amount will come from adult chaperones and the group's alumni who are paying their own way, with the $22,000 raised through remaining dances, bingo, performances, and donations.

"The kind of support we've gotten, much of it unsolicited, has been fantastic," said Mrs. Leona Washburn of Paw Paw, the Folk Dancer's assistant director.

"We had an 80-year-old man from Decatur come in the other day and write out a check for $100. He's not connected with anyone in our group, but he said he's never missed a festival."

The Folk Dancers, started in 1952, are an outgrowth of the Van Buren Youth camp, which was founded by Mrs. Washburn's husband, Kermit, in 1950.

The group has raised nearly $20,000 for the camp in the last 23 years, as well as performing for many elderly people and civic organizations.

"When we heard the $22,000 figure we were all overwhelmed," said Donald Hanson, a Van Buren county commissioner and one of the Folk Dancer's most avid supporters. "But we knew the people in the area and this county were quite civic-minded."

Since receiving an invitation for the tour Feb. 17 from the Polish government, there's been scagroup members and their parents haven't been doing something on the project.

"We practiced last week on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, then had a performance on Sunday," said Tom Riley, 18, a Hartford high school senior and Folk Dancers president. "For about three months straight about 25 of us were over at DeGroot's in Coloma packing flower bulbs to raise money."

Riley said he sees the trip as a once in a lifetime opportunity.

"Most of the kids have never been out of the country before. And most of their parents and relatives never had the chance to go."

"When we found out we were going it was a shock; something we never expected. We hope to get to know them (the Polish people) a little better and maybe we'll even swap a few dances."

The Folk Dancers are scheduled to begin their tour in New York, with a briefing session and party sponsored by the Polish consulate. From there they'll tour a number of cities including Warsaw and Cracow, with lodging in university dormitories and hotels. Between performances, they'll have time to visit castles, museums, concentration camps, and other sites. The group is scheduled to return July 16.

The Folk Dancers perform in costumes corresponding to the nation's dances that they are performing, and have a repertoire that literally covers the world — from Lithuania to the Philippines.

Mrs. Washburn said she believes the biggest thing the Folk Dancers have had going for it is the character of its members.

"They aren't chosen on their dancing ability, but on what kind of young people they are," she said.

Social Security Can Wait For Overhaul

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taxes for Social Security are likely to go up to keep the retirement system solvent, but employers and employees may be spared an immediate tax increase, congressional testimony indicates.

In any case, Social Security Commissioner James B. Cardwell and Rep. James A. Burke, D-Mass., agreed there is no prospect that workers already retired or planning to retire in the future will have their benefits cut off.

Burke is chairman of a House Social Security subcommittee which heard Cardwell testify Wednesday that there is no justification for what he called alarmist predictions "that Social Security has gone broke."

The system's deficit is estimated at $3 billion this year and due to increase unless financing is changed, Cardwell testified.

But he said the reserves of more than $46 billion would carry the system without reduction in benefits until 1980 or 1981 even if nothing were done.

Cardwell left no doubt that the administration wants corrective measures, but suggested that these might safely wait until the economy struggles out of recession.

Burke said, however, he expects his committee to produce legislation this year. Neither Cardwell nor Burke suggested what the corrective measures might be, agreeing that more study both by the administration and Congress is needed.

The choices being studied include increasing taxes on higher-income workers and their employers or increasing taxes on all those covered by the Social Security system or taking some general tax revenues to help finance Social Security.

The administration opposes the general revenue approach, but Burke has long advocated that the treasury make some contribution to the system thus far financed by its own special tax.

At present the tax rate is 5.85 per cent on both employer and employee on wages up to $14,100. This means that those with higher incomes are not taxed on all their earnings. There have been proposals to increase the taxable earnings limit to as much as $25,000.

Cardwell, elaborating on the findings published earlier this week by the Social Security trustees, said the system's immediate problems are caused by unemployment, reduced contributions from the payroll tax, inflation and increases in the level of benefits through the automatic cost-of-living hikes.

The trustees also pointed to a long-range problem they said would develop after the year 2000 because a lower birth rate seems to indicate there will be fewer active workers per retired worker in the future.

However, Cardwell and Burke agreed the executive and Congress first should tackle the more pressing deficit situation.

"I think we do have to act on the short-range problem in the next few months," Burke said. "Reports of this deficit are alarming Social Security recipients and also the people who are still working and paying taxes. We have to give the American people some reassurance."

"I don't see any way the Social Security system can break down," Burke continued. "We have made adjustments every few years in the past and we will continue to make them."

Mock trial was training exercise for approximately dozen social services investigators who are students in "Investigative Report Writing" class at Lake

Michigan college. Purpose was to illustrate importance of correct reports that can stand test of use in giving testimony in court. Attys. Nearly Everyone In Joint Beat Minnesota Fats MENARD, Ill. (AP) — Nearly everyone in the joint beat Minnesota Fats. Those were the breaks for the World's Greatest Pool Player, as he styles himself, at a prison exhibition.

Fats, perhaps the most famous hustler in the history of the game, was giving an exhibition and the joint was the Menard Correctional Center.

"I've been everywhere on earth and played every champion since I was 12 years old and never lost a match," Fats said Wednesday as inmate Bob Kinzinger racked up some balls.

"I hustled pool since I was two years old — born and raised in a saloon," Fats added as Kinzinger broke the rack for a game of eight ball. He scratched.

"That was your first mistake right there," an onlooker joked.

But Fats scratched too, leaving Kinzinger a perfect setup. He lined it up carefully, turned to Fats and said, "I'm not going to give you the break you gave me."

Ten minutes later, Kinzinger racked his cue with a victory over the World's Greatest to tell the boys back in the cell block about.

When inmate William Youngblood, 23, took on Fats, it was a youthful dream come true. He has boyhood memories of the night Fats came to Detroit to shoot a high stakes game.

"Everybody — pimps and players, dames and gamblers — came down that night," Youngblood said. "I was watching them bet $100 a ball. And that was just fellows betting on the side. Ever since I saw him, he's been my idol for a hustler."

Youngblood won when Fats ignored a sure shot on the eight ball and fired a three-rail bank and missed.

"Everybody plays too good around here," Fats said as Youngblood tapped it in.

A score or so other prison players polished Fats off as well.

Born Rudolph Wanderone 62 years ago in New York City, Fats wasn't exactly throwing the games but he did say,

"People get a kick out of it when they beat me. I've gone for a day and never won a game. In eight ball, any living creature can beat you any game."

Fats, who lives in Dowell, Ill., takes hustling seriously.

"The only time I ever play for fun is in exhibitions," he said.

And then, he doesn't like any nonsense such as having to wear a tuxedo as some who would like to upgrade the game's image ask.

"That's like putting whipped cream on a hot dog," Fats said.

"I got my name because I broke everybody in Minnesota when I was 12 years old," Fats said.

"What's the most you've ever played for?" an inmate asked.

"I played once for $250,000," Fats said.

"Who won?" another prisoner inquired.

"I never lost a match in my life," said Minnesota Fats.

Battle's Brewing Over Cut Of Vet Ed Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — A battle is developing over President Ford's plan to eliminate veterans' education benefits for persons joining the armed forces after July 1, a move military officials fear might reduce enlistments in the volunteer army.

Ford made the proposal Wednesday when he announced that with the end of the Vietnam war several other special benefits were being eliminated for new members of the armed services.

The wartime benefits eliminated by presidential order include primarily pensions for non-service connected disability and burial allowances. The dollar value of these allowances and the education benefits varies according to a veteran's financial circumstances.

Ford stressed that his actions "will not affect the eligibility of the millions of Vietnam veterans already discharged, or those presently serving in the armed forces."

But while Ford ended the minor benefits immediately by order, he will have to get congressional approval to end post-service education benefits, and opposition is already developing there. He suggested removing the benefits for anyone joining the Army, Navy, Marines or Air Force after July 1.

A bill to eliminate the education benefits is being introduced by 23 House members.

But Chairman Vance Hartke, D-Ind., of the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee, protested that the move would be "short-sighted" and "contrary to the best interests of the nation."

Hartke noted that an armed forces testing report last fall indicated that one out of every four servicemen said they would not have enlisted if GI education benefits were not available.

Defense manpower chief William K. Brehm said last February that "the major reason most people come into the service is to be trained and for the educational benefits they can earn while in the service."

The recession probably will keep enlistments at a high level for as long as it lasts, and all of the services have been topping their enlistment quotas since last November. But defense officials are concerned that halting government-financed education and training opportunities may cause a dropoff in enlistments after the economy recovers and jobs become plentiful again.

The Pentagon is known to have opposed ending GI education benefits when the proposal was circulated among government agencies for comment.

In a New York Times Sunday Magazine account of a week spent recently with Ford, author John Hersey presented this exchange between the President and Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger:

Ford — You do get into a paradoxical situation. You have an all-volunteer service, but these benefits give an incentive to get out.

Schlesinger — They give an incentive to get in, sir. But many will stay. We're attracting a different sort of person.

Ford — Ever thought of offering a greater educational opportunity if they stay in?

Schlesinger — We do some of that now Mr. President but we're going to cut back on it.

The administration's budget problems obviously had much to do with Ford's decision. He forecast cumulative savings of $1.5 billion over the first five years after the benefits stop.

James M. Wagoner, American Legion national commander, called Ford's action "timely and well-advised." He said the legion has long held that wartime benefits should be greater than peacetime benefits.

Ford noted that his actions are similar to cutoffs of GI benefits that followed prior wars and said the period of eligibility for benefits has already extended longer after Vietnam than after any previous war.

Ford promised to continue the present law that gives peacetime and wartime veterans the same benefits if disabled in the service and their survivors the same compensation if they die in the service.

The pensions affected by Ford's order are those paid for veterans who are disabled by non-service connected causes who have low income before age 65. After that age income does not matter.

By Associated Press

The last 544 foreigners trapped in Phnom Penh since the Khmer Rouge victory crossed into Thailand today at the end of their three-week ordeal. In South Vietnam, the new government announced that it had resumed communications with the outside world.

The first to cross the small "Freedom Bridge" into the Thai town of Aranyaprathet was a month-old French baby carried by a Thai Red Cross nurse. The infant was being fed intravenously. Its mother was the next across.

The evacuees, surrounded by baggage, looked disheveled as they lined up to cross the bridge in the very hot weather. Many were unshaven and said they had not changed their clothing on the trip.

Officials said the convoy of more than 20 trucks contained 230 French citizens, 200 Pakistanis and about 120 persons of other nationality including four Americans. Previous reports had said five U.S. citizens had remained behind in Phnom Penh after the first evacuation convoy brought out 585 foreigners Saturday.

The Americans were not immediately identified.

Only about 250 foreigners had been expected in the second convoy but French special envoy Marc Bonnefous said more had been picked up during the four-day journey.

Bonnefous said all the evacuees but one were in good health, an elderly French evacuee who made the 200-mile-plus trip in an ambulance and was seriously ill.

One French woman said "the Khmer Rouge provided enough food to all the foreigners in this group. We didn't have any trouble at all on the way. They gave us coconut milk and oranges every time we stopped."

Officials at the border said no one was left at the French Embassy where many of the group had taken refuge.

Red Cross doctors, Thai immigration officials and French diplomats were waiting to receive the group and take most of them to Bangkok.

Associated Press writers Denis D. Gray and Chhay Born Lay said foreigners among the first batch out Saturday told of executions in the streets and forced marches of people from the cities after the Khmer Rouge takeover. But they also spoke of kindness from the victorious rebels that enabled the evacuees to survive.

Douglas August Sapper III, a Vietnam veteran and vice president of a transport company who stayed behind after the U.S. evacuation of Phnom Penh to help people who had worked for him, said: "There were crowds of people on the rooftops and in the streets looking up to see the American helicopters do their air show in the sky. The Cambodians thought the U.S. Marines were coming to save Phnom Penh and acted as if they had just discovered a miracle cure for a terminal disease."

In the interest of the safety of those left behind, the accounts were not released until the final convoy entered Thailand.

Associated Press writer Daniel De Luce reported from Haiphong that machinery was pouring into the North Vietnamese port from friendly nations to help rebuild it.

The new South Vietnamese government resumed communications with the outside world Wednesday. Communications had been cut since South Vietnam surrendered to the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese April 30.

A Saigon radio broadcast monitored in Bangkok said the Saigon general post office would relay ordinary telegrams to any part of North Vietnam and telex messages could be sent anywhere in the world.

Home Purchase Tax Credit Questions Are Answered

EDITOR'S NOTE: This article was prepared by John Neumann, president of the Southwestern Michigan Board of Realtors, to inform prospective home buyers of the 5 percent income tax credit, not to exceed $2,000, for the purchase of a new home. Neumann is broker-owner of Mark I Realty Company, St. Joseph.

By JOHN NEUMANN
President Southwestern
Michigan Board of Realtors
The recently enacted Federal Tax Reduction Act of 1975 is an extremely complex law, and has raised many questions among homebuyers and housing industry experts alike. Following are answers to some questions regarding tax credit provisions for home purchase.

Q. What types of housing qualify for the tax credit?

A. Credit applies to certain new single-family homes, townhouses, condominiums, cooperative units and mobile homes. Any of these must be used as the taxpayer's principal residence in order to qualify for the tax credit.

The tax credit also may apply to owner-occupied units in one- to four-family structures. And it applies, in modified form, to homes being built by the taxpayer.

Q. How much is the tax credit?

A. The amount is 5 percent of the purchase price of the new principal residence to a maximum of $2,000 credit. There is no ceiling on the purchase price of the home.

The Internal Revenue Service defines purchase price as "the adjusted (tax) basis of the new principal residence on which the credit is computed."

If the taxpayer sells his old principal residence and realizes a gain on the sale, the adjusted tax basis on which the tax credit is computed is the purchase price of the new principal residence less the amount of gain not recognized.

Q. When must one acquire and occupy property to qualify for the tax credit?

A. The tax credit applies to a new principal residence acquired and occupied by the taxpayer after March 12, 1975, and before Jan. 1, 1977. However, if the residence was not built by the taxpayer, it must have been acquired by him under a binding contract entered into before Jan. 1, 1976.

Q. How does the law determine when a taxpayer has "acquired" a residence?

A. A taxpayer is considered to have acquired a residence when legal title to it is conveyed to him at settlement. "Acquired" also can mean that a taxpayer has possession of a residence in accordance with a binding purchase contract under which he makes periodic payments until he becomes entitled, under the contract, to demand conveyance of title.

Q. What must seller provide to document sale?

A. The seller must provide the buyer with a certificate stating the dwelling was never offered at a price lower than which the buyer purchased it.

Q. How soon does one receive the tax credit?

A. The Internal Revenue Service has not yet made a final decision on that question.

However, it appears that the tax credit would be realized when the taxpayer files his income tax for the year 1975. At that time, the taxpayer would subtract from his tax liability (the amount of taxes he owes) an amount equal to five per cent of the purchase price of the home, not to exceed $2,000, or to the limit of his tax liability, whichever is less.

However, the credit may not be claimed until both the acquisition and occupancy tests have been satisfied. For example, if the taxpayer is unable to occupy the property until sometime during 1976, even though the acquisition test was met in 1975, the tax credit would be claimed on the 1976 income tax return.

Q. How much tax credit is allowed for the taxpayer who is building his own home?

A. If construction was begun before March 13, 1975, only construction after March 12, 1975, will be taken into account in determining the amount of credit allowable.

Q. Can the owner of a duplex or triplex obtain a tax credit?

A. The taxpayer can claim a tax credit on that portion of the purchase price allocable to the unit he occupies as his principal residence.

Q. Are purchasers of condominiums eligible for the tax credit?

A. The Internal Revenue Service states that, to be eligible for a tax credit, the residence

JOHN NEUMANN
Realtors' President

must be new. Therefore, new unoccupied condominiums in new buildings would be eligible. Conversions to condominiums from apartments would not be eligible no matter how extensive the renovation.

Q. Would new property being resold subject to sale be eligible for a tax credit?

A. In order for the residence to qualify, the "original use" must be by the taxpayer. If the taxpayer rents the new residence and subsequently purchases it, and if he purchases it by the specified date, he is eligible for the credit.

Mine Control Backers Seek 'Override' Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of a bill to control coal strip mining now are focusing their efforts on rallying enough votes to override a threatened presidential veto.

A compromise bill closely resembling one President Ford vetoed last December was approved Wednesday by the House 293 to 115. It passed the Senate by voice vote earlier in the week and now goes to Ford's desk.

The bill would impose national environmental curbs on coal strip mining, which accounts for half of all coal produced in the United States.

It would also require coal operators to restore land to productive use after mining is completed and would levy a tax of up to 35 cents per ton on coal to clean up thousands of acres of abandoned strip mine excavations, most of them in Appalachia.

The House votes in favor of the bill were 21 more than the two-thirds that would be needed to override another veto if the same number of congressmen were voting. However, the margin was not as wide as the 333-86 majority that approved an earlier version in March.

Rep. N.A. Udall, D-Ariz., the bill's floor manager, said he expects Ford to veto the bill but that the veto can be overridden.

"We lost a few votes from some who wanted a stronger bill, and some who were lobbied heavily by the coal industry and electric utilities," Udall said. "If the President vetoes the bill I think you will see the people who want a stronger bill joining our ranks, and we will also pick up some of the others."

Ford vetoed the 1974 measure claiming it would increase coal and electric prices and retard his program of U.S. energy self-sufficiency — a goal that calls for doubling coal production by 1985 and extensive strip mining of the vast coal reserves of the West.

It was a "pocket veto," handed down in late December after Congress had already recessed and could not challenge it.

The Tennessee Valley Authority, the nation's largest electric utility, Wednesday urged Ford to sign the bill.

It is the first time the TVA has gone on record in support of the legislation, although in the past officials have said they generally support passage of a firm federal strip mining control bill.

"While TVA has some concern about the effects of the bill on national coal production, we feel the benefits of the bill outweigh any shortcomings," TVA general manager Lynn Seiber said.

Carl E. Bagge, president of the National Coal Association, Wednesday reiterated his industry opposition to the bill. Bagge urged Ford to "again veto this legislative disaster and insist on a balanced and reasonable bill."

House-Senate conferees who put together the final bill did include several modifications suggested by the administration, but opponents contend not enough changes were made to avert another veto.

CIA DENIALS: Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, background, talk with newsmen Wednesday in Washington. Church, chairman of the Senate Committee probing the CIA, said the denials of CIA involvement in the assassination of foreign leaders are "correct but not complete." (AP Wirephoto)

Watervliet Township Review Underway

WATERVLIET — Lyle Woodworth, Watervliet township supervisor, has announced that he has begun a review of all property assessments in the township and will inspect each parcel of property in the township during the next five to six weeks. Woodworth said approximately 1,700 parcels will be reviewed.

According to Woodworth, the review is being undertaken to achieve a more fair and equitable tax base for the township. He predicted that while many assessments on properties will go up, several will be reduced. Woodworth added that 40 parcels of property were reviewed Tuesday, with the assessment card on each parcel checked for accuracy while at the described property.

Natural Gas Use High In April

Michigan Gas Utilities reported an unusually high customer consumption of gas during April due to one of the coldest April's in recent years.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

2300 hours

Twenty-four hour time is widely used in scientific work throughout the world. In the United States it is used also in operations of the armed forces. In Europe it is used in preference to the 12-hour a.m. and p.m. system. With 24-hour system the day begins at midnight and hours are numbered 0 through 24. The World Almanac notes.

MGU reported it was the coldest April since 1965 and the first April since 1937 not to reach a temperature of 70 degrees.

Although warmer days are approaching, the gas company recommended some gas conservation measures on cold spring days. Proper insulation, closing heat off from unused rooms, regular inspection of furnaces and filters and the installation and proper maintenance of a humidifier all save customer's money, the company advised.

In addition, MGU said the impact of higher gas prices could be lessened if customers participate in a balanced payment plan providing equal payments throughout the year. Headquartered at Monroe, MGU serves customers in southwestern Michigan.

'Returning Home' Makes Top Ten In TV Ratings

LAST MARCH? Fred Stock stepped off in 1971 Grand Floral parade while Ray Cox, Stock's companion in two-man band, waved to photographer. Stock, now 85, says this year's parade probably will be his last, and he hopes to make the entire route. Stock has marched in every Grand Floral parade since 1924, and formerly was a one-man band.

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC's "Returning Home," a TV remake of the classic postwar movie, "Best Years of Our Lives," was among the nation's 20 highest-rated evening TV shows last week, according to A.C. Nielsen Co. audience estimates.

The program, a pilot for a possible series, was 10th in popularity, according to Nielsen ratings made public today. The top show during the week of April 28-May 4 was a rerun of a CBS "All in the Family" segment.

According to the Nielsen estimates, the nation's 20 most popular shows last week were "All in the Family," "The Jeffersons," "Good Times" and "Mary Tyler Moore" (all CBS); "Sanford and Son" (NBC); "Marcus Welby" (ABC); "Kojak" (CBS); "Chico and the Man" and "Police Woman" (both NBC); "Returning Home" (ABC); "Bob Newhart" (CBS); a 12th-place tie for ABC's "S.W.A.T." and CBS' "Rhoda."

"Mannix" (CBS); "The Barbary Coast" (ABC Sunday movie); "They Only Come Out at Night" (NBC Tuesday movie); "Cher" (CBS); "The Rookies" (ABC); "Maude" (CBS) and Part Two NBC's "The Blue Knight."

Boy Thought Bus Ride Was Too Long

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A 10-year-old boy and his mother have filed a $10,000 suit against the Allegheny County Port Authority Transit district claiming that the youngster was confined on a bus because he was nickel short of a fare. The suit by Gloria Rankin and her son, Shawn, charges the agency with false imprisonment and intentional infliction of emotional distress. It asks the $10,000 as punitive damages. The Rankins contend that a bus driver refused to let Shawn off a bus last month after the boy paid only 15 cents of a 20-cent fare until the vehicle had reached the end of the line, about six miles away.

Toledo Mayor Excuses 'Hit Man'

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A hit man carried out a contract on Mayor Harry Kessler. It wasn't the usual gangland-type contract, but a contract for a pie in the face. Kessler was hit Tuesday during a City Council meeting. Five pie-in-the-face contracts were sold last week during a buy-in auction on Toledo's public television station.

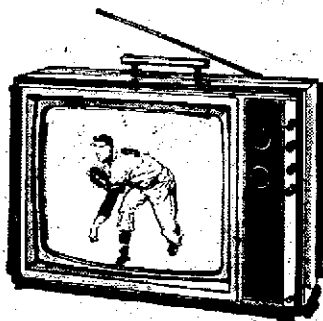

One purchaser put his contract on Kessler, and a young man named Bob Daniel got the job. Daniel splattered Kessler and split, but police caught up with him a few blocks away. Kessler decided all was in fun and refused to press charges.

UPON THIS ROCK

"In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you."

John 14:2

The words of Jesus to chosen apostles in the night of his betrayal. Words of hope for many soon to lose their teacher and friend. He who had spoken of God and his kingdom would be shamed and killed. But the dream was not over. Glory would be, not on earth but in heaven, in mansions above; if only they would believe and follow Jesus.

There is a mansion for us also, if we will believe and follow him (John 14:6). To follow Jesus is to follow his word, to obey his commands (Luke 6:16). We follow by faith, when we repent of sin and do God's will (Matt. 7:21). We are born again, to enter God's kingdom, the church. And if we love him and serve him we will be with him for ever.

Will you believe? and be baptized in water for the forgiveness of your sins (John 3:1-5, Mark 16:16)? to enter the church of the Lord? and receive a mansion above? We hope that you will. If you have any questions on this article please write to us.

Sweepstakes Win Still Up In Air

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Agreements to split the winnings of the Irish Sweepstakes can be settled in a suit even though it is illegal to sell the sweepstakes tickets in Michigan, the State Supreme Court said.

The high court sent back to Ottawa County Circuit Court a dispute between two Michigan men over more than $487,000 in the Irish Sweepstakes winnings.

Except for the state-run lottery, it is illegal to set up, promote and sell lottery tickets in Michigan, the high court acknowledged.

But state law says agreements must be kept and contracts cannot be broken. Therefore, it is up to the circuit court to decide the merits of an alleged agreement between two disputing Ottawa County men to split the proceeds of a winning Irish Sweepstakes ticket, the court said. The 4-1 opinion was written by Justice Charles L. Levin.

Irish law permits the payment of money to winning ticket-holders and Michigan law does not prohibit winning ticket-holders "from receiving and retaining proceeds paid voluntarily by a lottery without legal action," the supreme court said.

Ottawa County Circuit Court Judge Raymond Smith ruled earlier that the alleged agreement between Lewis F. Miller and Ronald L. Radikopf to share the winnings was "spawned in violation of statute" and, therefore, was illegal. The judge granted Radikopf a summary judgment and Miller appealed.

Miller claimed he and Radikopf sold sweepstakes tickets together and for each 20 tickets sold, got two tickets themselves as compensation. Miller said each man put his name on one of the two free tickets, agreed the tickets were jointly owned and that a big win would be equally divided.

But when a ticket with Radikopf's name hit the jackpot, Radikopf refused to divvy up and Miller sued.

"It is consonant with the public policy of this state to encourage performance of legal contracts and to foster the just resolution of disputes," the high court said in overturning rulings by Miller and the state Court of Appeals. The appeals court had said general state policy against holding lotteries "would be seriously compromised ... if lottery winners were allowed to successfully bring suit for their prizes."

"Nonenforcement of the agreement claimed by Miller would not tend to discourage the sale of Irish Sweepstakes tickets. It could reward, without any corresponding benefit, promissory default. We conclude that public policy would not be offended by enforcement of the claimed agreement," the court said.

"The narrow question to be decided is whether a contractual claim to a share of money legally paid by the Irish Sweepstakes and legally possessed by the defendant may be enforced," the supreme court said.

Justice Mary Coleman dissented, saying that while the Irish Sweepstakes is "well operated and legal at its source ... it is also true that it is illegal to sell the tickets in Michigan."

Justice John W. Fitzgerald did not participate.

Robbers Kill Priest, Nun, Housekeeper

EDGARD, La. (AP) — "Good Pope John said that any day is a good day on which to be born, and any day is a good day on which to die," the Roman Catholic archbishop of New Orleans said after a church robbery in which a priest, a nun and a housekeeper were killed.

Slain in this Mississippi River community 30 miles north of New Orleans were the pastor of St. John the Baptist Church, the Rev. J. Alcide Clement, 47; Sister Mary Patrick Harrington, 43, and Leah Lejeune, 38. They died after two robbers entered the church rectory Wednesday, authorities reported.

In a special Mass for the victims on the day they were killed, Archbishop Philip M. Hannan said:

"The priest, the good sister

Empty House Damaged By Blaze

DOWAGIAC — Fire of yet undetermined origin damaged an unoccupied house at 420 Tuttle street about 3:30 this morning, according to Capt. Wayne Mattix of the Dowagiac city fire department.

He said the fire apparently started on the second floor of the home owned by William Bolton of 508 Chestnut street, Dowagiac.

Mattix said there was heat and smoke damage on the second floor and water damage on the first. The fire remains under investigation, he said.

There were no dollar estimates of damage, he said.

and the elderly lady who was the housekeeper, although they met an untimely death, were all prepared to go to meet their Redeemer.

"Nobody expected such a tragedy to happen here in Edgard."

Archbishop Hannan was in the area on church business and rushed to Edgard, a community of 750 in Louisiana's broad, flat sugar belt, when he learned of the tragedy.

Sheriff Lester J. Millet said the two robbers escaped with $600 after shooting Father Clement, killing the two women with knives and pistol - whipping sexton Leopold St. Pierre.

Millet said an extensive search was under way for the slayers. He said descriptions were furnished by St. Pierre, who suffered a head gash which required 27 stitches to close.

The sheriff said St. Pierre was in the church when the men walked in about 3 p.m. When the sexton told them he didn't know where the pastor was, they beat him unconscious with the butt of a pistol, Millet said.

He said they then entered the rectory and stabbed Mrs. Lejeune with a butcher knife. They found Father Clement in his upstairs bedroom and shot him, and then they encountered Sister Mary Patrick at the front door as they were leaving and stabbed her, Millet said.

The sheriff said Father Clement, 47, a quiet, slender man who had ministered to the parish's congregation of mostly poor, black sugarcane workers for the past four years, had been shot in the back of the head at close range. Millet said the killers apparently used a pillow to muffle the sound of the shot.

Sister Mary Patrick, who had just returned on a Mississippi River ferry from a visit to neighboring churches, was found in a hallway inside the front door, stabbed in the neck, he said.

Mrs. Lejeune was apparently cleaning an upstairs room when the men entered, Millet said. She was found in a chair, her throat slashed.

Several money boxes, open and empty, were scattered about the floor of Father Clement's office in the rectory.

Millet said St. Pierre regained consciousness about 20 minutes after he had been attacked and sprinted 100 yards to the courthouse to sound the alarm. He was released in satisfactory condition after treatment of his injuries.

Father Clement, who tended a garden and played with two German Shepherd dogs in his spare time, presided over church activities in all of St. John the Baptist Parish, the political county.

Funeral services for the three victims were pending.

Life Goes On Mid Ulster Rubble

By JAMES R. PEIPERT
Associated Press Writer
BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — After nearly six years of sectarian war, Belfast is a town of barbed wire and concrete barriers, flak-jacketed soldiers and bombed-out buildings. "Cowboys" and "Comanche country" — and a tough, resilient people trying to lead normal lives in the midst of the havoc. The gunmen and bombers on both sides of the religious divide — Roman Catholic and Protestant — have exacted an awful toll, recorded on a big sign known as the "Scoreboard," mounted on the classical facade of a Methodist Church beside the City Hall.

Better Returned Late Than Never At All

GREENEVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A sewing machine Clark Harrison lent out more than 30 years ago has been returned with a note of apology. Harrison said he found the sewing machine on his front porch Monday with this note attached. "This sewing machine was borrowed from you 'years' ago (for tryout). Sorry it has taken me 'so long' to return it, thanks. 'Anonymous'."

The sign now lists more than 1,200 dead in the British province Ulster since the latest "troubles" broke out in August 1968. Another 9,000 persons have been wounded or maimed, millions of dollars worth of property have been destroyed by bombing and arson, and a generation of young people may be scarred for life. Tight security and its ugly paraphernalia are an unavoidable fact of daily life. But as warm, spring sunshine bathes the scorched and boarded-up facades of stores and office buildings, shoppers through the streets taking advantage of a shaky cease-fire begun Feb. 10 by the Irish Republican Army, whose goal is to drive the British out of the province. Shoppers submit resignedly to the thorough body and handbag searches required to pass through security fences ringing segments of the city center and then another search to enter virtually every shop. They pay little attention to the British soldiers in camouflage battle dress and flak jackets, rifles at the ready, standing in doorways and patrolling the streets in armored cars and olive-drab Landrovers.

Hardly a single block in the city is without a fire-damaged building, a fenced-off lot of rubble. As an Ulster schoolchild put it in a poem: "Like some giant dentist had been at work pulling teeth out of the city's gums, leaving gaping holes where the teeth once lay."

U.S. Seeks Return Of Two Bodies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says "everything possible" is being done to arrange for the return of the bodies of two Marines killed at Saigon's airport just hours before the final American evacuation.

The two Marines were killed April 28 during an artillery and rocket attack on the airport. Twelve hours later the final evacuation of Saigon began.

The Pentagon reported last week, in the wake of the hectic helicopter evacuation of Americans and South Vietnamese from Saigon that the bodies of Cpl. Charles McMahon Jr. of Woburn, Mass., and Lance Cpl. Darwin L. Judge of Marshalltown, Iowa, had been flown to the carrier Midway off the South Vietnamese coast.

Laitin said the true situation emerged only in recent days when the Midway arrived in the Philippines. The ships in the evacuation fleet were then checked and no signs of the bodies appeared. Laitin said.

definement, the "Wyatt Twirps. IRA strongholds, where a policeman can't go without a platoon of soldiers to back him up, are sometimes called "comanche country."

"There are parts of this town where you wouldn't dare walk around without a gun, and even then it's dodgy," said an ambulance man with the Northern Ireland Ambulance Service. He carries an identification card issued by the Royal Ulster Constabulary, the provincial police force based in Republican areas. That card, he said, could be enough to get him shot, so he packs a pistol in a shoulder holster.

Wide strips of the city between Catholic and Protestant enclaves lay abandoned and decaying. As rioting polarized the two communities, people living in border areas packed up and moved. Those who or live stayed put live through a civil war on their very doorsteps. The vacant strips became a woman's land and security forces closed them off with barbed wire and high barriers. Windows and doors were sealed up with concrete blocks to keep snipers from using them to shoot at the other side.

Soldiers periodically search the abandoned rows of two-story brick houses, sometimes used by terrorists to hide weapons and explosives. The soldiers also set up random checks of vehicles. A commonplace sight is a stopped car, its trunk open and driver being frisked by soldiers.

Signs and posters put up around the city remind a visitor of the constant threat of gunplay or bombing. "Don't Become a Murder Victim," says one such sign over a photograph of a bullet-riddled body lying in a gutter. It then gives some commonsense advice about staying alive in Belfast: make sure you know who's outside your door before opening it; avoid going out alone at night; watch out for suspicious cars, don't stand under

A SALE'S A SALE: Belfast shoppers line up for bomb damage sale at a city store. After six years of sectarian war, the capital of Northern Ireland is a city of barbed wire and concrete barriers, but also a tough, resilient people trying to lead normal lives in the midst of the havoc. (AP Wirephoto) street lights. "A firebomber may be anyone in a crowd. Did you see anything suspicious?" says another poster.

As a precaution against car bombs, owners of some pubs and stores filled 50-gallon oil drums with concrete and spaced them in a ring well away from the front of their premises. The facade of the old Grand Central Hotel on Royal Avenue, a main shopping street, is encased by a high chainlink fence mounted on scaffolding. The building is a frequent target for bombers because it is now used as a barracks for British troops who guard the city center.

In the lobby of the building that houses the Northern Ireland tourist board there is a makeshift sandbag bunker beside the desk of a security man who checks and frisks visitors. Most of the building's windows are criss-crossed by two-inch strips of tape to minimize injuries from flying glass.

Major hotels like the Europa and the new Russell Court are fenced off in the front and visitors and guests have to pass through a wooden "security hut" for a frisking and a search of their bags. The 14-story Europa has been bombed 28 times.

But despite all this, the people of Belfast still go about their daily lives with a surprising cheerfulness and friendliness.

Government officials talk of the resilience of the Ulster character, businessmen talk defiantly of refusing to be bombed out by the terrorists from either side, and clergymen insist that the vast majority of Northern Ireland's people are peaceful, practicing Christians who abhor violence.

One thing that has kept the business community alive is a government compensation scheme that one official likened to a "giant state insurance corporation."

American Revolution

Ticonderoga Held Victory Key

By DANIEL Q. RANNEY
Associated Press Writer
Two hundred years ago, a hotheaded land speculator and an egotistical military captain led a pack of mountaineers on a daring British fort.

Fort's Loss Helped Doom The British

The American rebels captured Ft. Ticonderoga from an unprepared British force early in the Revolutionary War. The loss of the fort helped to doom the British in their fight to keep America a colony.

Lake Champlain stopped a British advance on the populated shores of the seacoast. The waterway was first fought over by the French and British during the French and Indian Wars. To defend their claim, the French built Ft. Carillon in 1755, but the British captured it and gave it a version of the area's Indian name, Ticonderoga. There the British stayed, but with Canada secure, only a skeleton force manned the fort. Little changed until April 19, 1775, when colonial Minutemen resisted the Redcoats at Lexington and Concord. As the alarm spread, colonial militia units, upset over the mother country's economic policies, marched toward Boston. A group from New Haven, Conn., led by Benedict Arnold, who later became traitor, joined the American cause. Arnold told the Massachusetts Provincial Congress of the cannons and other weapons stored at Ft. Ticonderoga, and the Congress gave him 100 pounds to raise a force and take the fort.

About the same time, another small expedition, also alerted by Arnold, left Connecticut, and they all met in Bennington, now part of Vermont, where Ethan Allen had called together his Green Mountain Boys. Allen, a bold, impulsive land speculator from Connecticut, had organized the mountain settlers to defend themselves against the conflicting claims of New York and New Hampshire for their land.

With Arnold and the Connecticut men at his side, Allen led his unruly followers in scows across Lake Champlain on the night of May 9, 1775. At the break of dawn, 80 men, three abreast, marched up to the fort, and a sentry ran for safety. As they swarmed in, about 40 British soldiers, half of them too old or unhealthy to fight, slept in their barracks. When Capt. William Delaplace, the commander of the post, confronted the rebels, he asked them under what authority they were acting. "In the name of the Great Jehovah and the Continental Congress," thundered back.

Allen. The revolutionaries now controlled the vital point on the thoroughfare to Canada. They quickly took advantage of it. The next August, Brig. Gen. Richard Montgomery used the fort as a base to launch an attack on the northern British possessions. Meanwhile, Arnold led another expedition overland through the Maine wilderness toward Quebec. But the expedition failed. The British still controlled Canada, and that meant only Ticonderoga stopped them from capturing the waterway that was a main thoroughfare between New England and the colonies to the south.

Meanwhile, however, Ticonderoga's big guns were needed for the first target of George Washington's army - British-held Boston. During the winter, Gen. Henry Knox and his men dragged 60 tons of cannon, mortars, and howitzers across the rough terrain of western Massachusetts. On March 5, 1776, the Continental Army set the guns up on the highlands around Boston, and the British left without a fight.

All summer, both sides built navies on Lake Champlain. They met in combat on Oct. 11, 1776, and the British decimated the colonial ships commanded by Arnold. But by this time, winter was approaching, and the British had to postpone their big move until the next July. Then, the British forced the rebels to give up the fort when they surprised them with fortifications on a nearby mountaintop.

But as the British moved on, their expedition bogged down a few miles to the south, and they were beaten in the Battle of Saratoga, the turning point of the Revolutionary War.

Three-Run Double Snaps Tie Scott Ruins Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Mickey Lolich nearly got off Scott free. Instead, George Scott turned what should have been an "out" pitch into a three-run double in the seventh inning Wednesday night to give the Milwaukee Brewers a 7-5 baseball victory over the Detroit Tigers.

"It was a hell of a pitch," Scott insisted. "To be honest, I think it was the type of pitch I would make an out on nine out of every 10 times."

With a count of two balls and two strikes, Scott got a piece of Lolich's low, inside slider and lashed his big hit to break up a 4-4 deadlock.

The loss dropped the Tigers to third place in the American League East, two games off the pace, and kept Milwaukee atop the standings by 1½ games over Boston heading into Tuesday's rubber game of the three-game series.

Rookie dneuble, 1-1, is expected to pitch for the Tigers against Jim Slaton, 3-4.

"I wanted to hit the ball hard," said cleanup batter Scott. "It was a hell of a pitch, down and inside. I was lucky to get my bat on it ... I wasn't looking for anything. With two strikes you can't look for a certain pitch."

CanAmer Board Meets Tuesday

The Board of Directors of the Berrien County Olympic and CanAmer Games will hold a meeting next Tuesday starting at 8 p.m. at the CanAmer office.

Items to be discussed include approval of remaining Olympic final sites, fund raising, selection of delegates to an international meeting, a report from the Blossom Parade float committee and other business. The meeting is open to the public.

"You go ask him (Lolich)," Scott continued, "and he'll say he got that pitch exactly where he wanted it. The pitch was so good I don't think I could hit it again. I'm a pretty good hitter and that's what good hitters will do — hit good pitches."

In the opposite clubhouse Lolich confirmed Scott's words.

"It would have been a ball, but most of my slider strikeouts are on balls," he said. "Scotty's a big, free swinger. I'd rather pitch to those guys. Usually a big swinger takes a big cut at that slider and they miss."

The hit ruined a good comeback by Detroit, which found itself behind 4-1 after the Brewers scored four times off Lolich in the fourth. Three runs came on a homer by Sixto Lezcano.

In the bottom of the inning the Tigers got three runs and drove starter Bill Champion to the showers. Thereafter they couldn't master the sidearm slings of Ed Rodriguez, who gave up just two hits in six innings to run his record to 2-0.

One of the Tiger hits was a solo homer by Leon Roberts in the ninth, extending his hitting streak to nine games.

Ron LeFlore's running produced a 1-0 Tiger lead in the first. He opened with an infield single off first baseman Scott's glove. When he stole second, catcher Darrell Porter threw the ball wild for an error and LeFlore took third. He scored on Gary Sutherland's sacrifice fly.

Robin Yount, the league's second leading hitter at .368 going into the game, opened the Brewer fourth with a single and came home on Bob Mitchell's double. Hank Aaron walked with one out before Lezcano lined a 3-2 pitch into the lower deck in left.

In the bottom of the inning Detroit got consecutive singles from Bill Freehan, Ben Oglivie and Dan Meyer for one run. A wild pitch by Rodriguez brought home another, while Tom Verzyer's ground out produced the third run.

BACK TO WORK: Dick Allen tries out bat at Veterans Field Stadium in Philadelphia after announcement he had been traded to the Phillies by the Atlanta Braves. (AP Wirephoto)

Allen Splits Philly Fans

Expected To Draw Loud Cheers And Boos

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — They either love him or hate him. Nothing has aroused the emotions of Philadelphia sports fans like the Dick Allen saga.

Ever since the Philadelphia Phillies expressed interest last December in reacquiring their onetime headliner, the newspapers, television and radio stations have been besieged with letters and calls about Allen.

The tone has been either, "Hey! Let's get him, he'll win a pennant for us," or "If the Phillies get that bum again I'll cancel my season tickets."

There is no argument about Allen's ability. He's recognized, even by his detractors, as one of the super hitters of modern baseball.

You could awaken Dick Allen at midnight, hand him a bat, and he'd probably hit the wall for a double.

The problem has been Allen's attitude. He refuses to conform to the rules that apply to the 24 other members of the team.

He misses batting practice, sometimes even games.

He dislikes the news media. He says he owes the fans his best effort at the ball park but that what he does off the field is his own business.

The fans, most of whom live by law and order and have jobs that require them to punch a clock, accept working conditions, and live by the general rules of society, resent Allen's philosophy.

They resent it especially because he earns a reported $250,000 a year.

But Allen lives by his own clock. He is his own man.

No autographs, no personal appearances for him. Baseball is a game between the white lines for the 32-year-old slugger.

When he crosses them after the game, it is over until the umpire yells "Play Ball" for the next game.

Allen has completed the cycle. After hectic tours of duty in Philadelphia, St. Louis, Los Angeles and Chicago, he's back in Philadelphia, the so-called "City of Brotherly Love."

The question now that the Phillies have him back is how much love, or hate, the fans have for Allen.

The fans are divided. So when he first steps on the field at Veterans Stadium, there will probably be as many cheers as boos or as many boos as cheers, depending on how you look at it.

Most of the Phillies' players, however, have indicated Allen will be accepted with open arms. They want his big bat. It could mean World Series money.

Harbert Signup

HARBERT — The Harbert baseball league signup for boys 5-12 years of age will be held at Baur field this Saturday from 10-3 p.m.

New registrations must bring a birth certificate. Saturday is also work day and baseball players are requested to bring rakes and shovels.

Spartans Losing White Cage Trio

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Basketball player Jeff Tropp will be allowed to leave Michigan State University and attend the University of Toledo, MSU said Wednesday.

Clarence Underwood, acting MSU athletic director, said he had "no indication or knowledge of anybody else leaving the basketball program."

Underwood said he did not know why Tropp, a white student who was focus of a walkout by black MSU players last season, was dropping out.

"I said, 'Jeff, whatever your reasons are, I'm sure they're valid. I respect your judgment and I respect you as a human being,'" said Underwood, a black. He is filling in for Athletic Director Burt Smith, who is hospitalized with an ulcer.

The Michigan State News, MSU's student newspaper, reported Wednesday two other white MSU basketball players, Mark Talaga and Jim Dudley, also were transferring. The team now is all black.

Talaga will transfer to a junior college in Texas and Dudley will go to Marquette, the paper said.

None of the players could be reached for comment Wednesday.

The newspaper said the trio is leaving in the wake of MSU's failure to sign 7-2 center

Tom Dore. Dore signed a national letter of intent to attend Davidson citing recent problems at MSU as reason for not signing with the Spartans.

Tropp became the center of controversy when the black players staged a one-game boycott because Coach Gus Ganakas named Tropp to a starting position against Indiana. The game was played by the MSU junior varsity.

Tropp and Talaga were high school standouts in Michigan. Tropp played at Holt and Talaga at Bay City. Dudley is from Milwaukee.

"I don't think we have any more problems than any other college basketball team. There's good and bad in everything," Ganakas said.

Ganakas said he was informed Tuesday night by Tropp of the departure. He said he has not heard from Talaga or Dudley, although Dudley is to report his decision by Friday, Ganakas said.

"I'm disappointed that he's leaving because he's a good prominent player. He'll be an asset to any basketball program and I wish him much success," Ganakas said.

Asked what reasons Tropp gave him for dropping out of MSU, Ganakas said, "I don't want to talk about it ... my responsibility is the team we have remaining."

Bullets Now Ready To Rub Out Celtics

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — The Washington Bullets, with a tenacious defense and Wes Unseld a titan on the backboards, stand poised to eliminate Boston's defending champions from the National Basketball Association playoffs.

"We're in a deep hole, but we're not counted out of it yet," Boston's John Havlicek said after Washington won 119-108 Wednesday night and took a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Conference finals.

"Trying to rally his slumping mates," Havlicek recalled past heroics when the Celtics overcame a similar deficit to beat Philadelphia and tied New York before losing a deciding seventh game.

But this time, unless a freak injury to Washington guard Jimmy Jones intercedes, the Celtics appear disorganized against a team hungry for its first NBA title.

Only a spirited comeback prevented a complete rout before a capacity 19,000 fans in Capital Centre after the Bullets had taken a 21-point lead early in the third period.

Don Nelson, like Havlicek a 12-year veteran, conceded that the pressure would be on the Celtics when Game 5 is played in Boston Friday night.

"But if we win that one," Nelson said, "the pressure's got to be on the Bullets back here on Sunday because they don't want to go back to Boston."

Unseld, the NBA rebounding champion who was overshadowed when Paul Silas grabbed 25 rebounds to key Boston's lone victory last Saturday, hauled down the same number on Wednesday.

Dave Cowens snared 17 rebounds for Boston before fouling out with seven minutes to play and Silas pulled down nine while playing only 34 minutes because of foul trouble.

Phil Chenier paced Washington with 27 points, Elvin Hayes had 22, and Kevin Porter 21.

Jo Jo White scored 32 points to top the Celtics. Havlicek scored 23, Nelson 21 and Cowens 15.

In the other NBA semifinal series, the Golden State Warriors pit the irresistible force of their offense against the immovable defense of the Chicago Bulls tonight in a crucial fifth game.

"We'd better win," was all Warriors' star Rick Barry could say about tonight's episode of the teams' best-of-seven fight for the Western Conference title. A repeat performance of Barry's 36-point night in the Warriors' comeback win over the Bulls on Tuesday night would help.

Otherwise, if the Warriors lose tonight, they go to Chicago with a one-game deficit. And the Bulls, their 2-26 playoff record on the road notwithstanding, are tough at home.

"They'll really be coming back at us," said Warrior guard Butch Beard.

There's no doubt the Bulls are mad, not only at the Warriors for overcoming a 19-point deficit Tuesday night but at the officials. The result could be even more aggressive play than they are noted for.

"We're not a finesse team," said Bulls' guard Norm Van Lier. "We're a physical team. A team that relies on defense."

"The officials can control the way we play. They did Tuesday night. They took our game away from us."

Islanders' Overtime Win Keeps Playoff Hopes Alive

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — "It was him or me," said New York Islanders' goalie Glenn Resch. "This time it was me."

"It was me or Parent," said Islanders' center Jude Drouin. "If I had missed it, I would have shot myself."

Instead, Drouin shot the puck—a rising backhand that scored over the right leg of Philadelphia Flyers' goaltender Bernie Parent at 1:53 of overtime to give the Islanders a 4-3 victory and sudden life in the National Hockey League's playoff semifinals.

It was Resch's "him or me" victory that kept New York from teetering over the brink of Stanley Cup elimination Wednesday night. His first-period save on a penalty shot by the Flyers' Bill Barber temporarily preserved an early Islanders' lead and helped head the defending champions their first loss in 22 games.

It was Drouin's "him or me" triumph that added a chapter to New York's Cinderella story, one that often seems more like "The Perils of Pauline."

So the Islanders have bought themselves more time—for the third time. In each of their three post-season series this season, New York has been within one loss of extinction. In each instance, however, they have come back to win.

Wednesday night's triumph cut Philadelphia's lead to 3-1 in the best-of-seven series with Game 5 scheduled tonight at the Flyers' Spectrum home.

"If we hadn't won tonight, it meant an early summer," said Islanders' Coach Al Arbour. But the clock on the Nassau Coliseum scoreboard wouldn't allow time to run out just yet.

There were two zeroes under the "time remaining" space on the scoreboard and three under the score for each team when Philadelphia right wing Reggie Leach sent a shot past Resch that appeared to have ended the series. But referee Dave Newell ruled that the celebration had started early for Philadelphia.

"You can't worry about it," said Flyers' Coach Fred Shero, who saw his club's playoff winning streak stopped at eight games.

"I put it in and I thought it was over," said Leach.

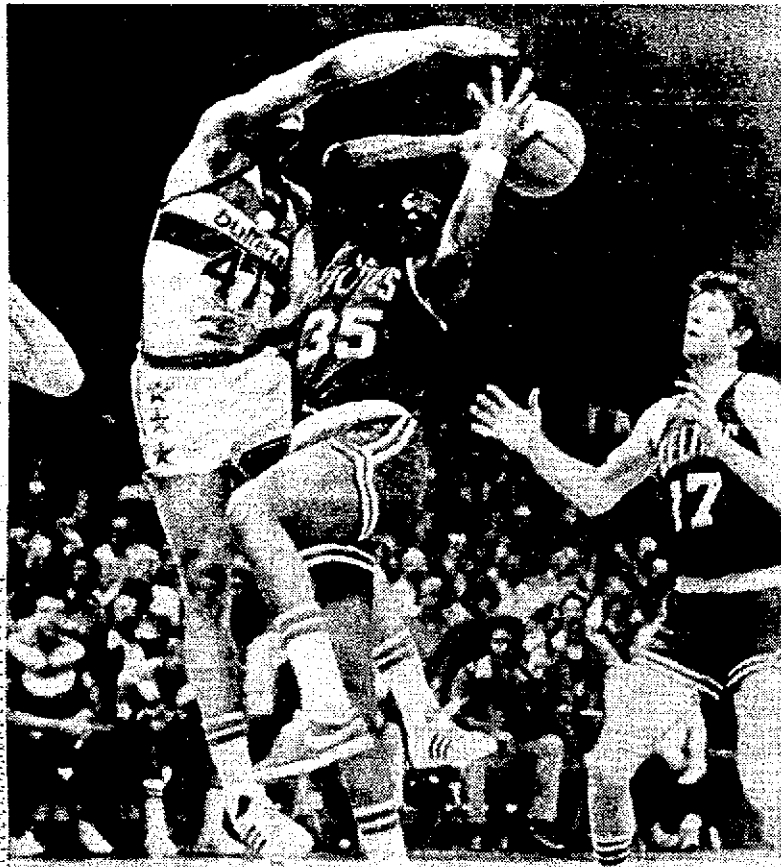

"I don't know whether it was a goal or not," said Resch. "I heard the buzzer, but my back was to it."

"I was upset. I thought I had blown it."

Ed Westfall and Ralph Stewart scored power play goals, and Gerry Hart also scored for a 3-0 New York lead in the second period. Rick MacLeish powered the Philadelphia comeback with two goals after Ross Lonsberry had opened the Flyers' scoring.

Bench, McGraw Flash Fit Forms Bonham Tosses Three-Hitter In Cubs' 7-0 Victory

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Johnny Bench says he's starting to feel pretty good. So does Tug McGraw. That could make the rest of the National League feel pretty sick.

"I'm finally starting to feel natural," Bench, recovering from an injured shoulder, said after he highlighted Cincinnati's six-run fifth inning Wednesday with his fifth home run of the season and the fifth grand slam of his career in the Reds' 10-2 rout of San Diego.

"I think this is the best I've felt since 1972," said McGraw, former bullpen ace of the New York Mets who has given Philadelphia some much needed relief, including 2 1/3 innings of hitless ball Wednesday night to preserve the Phillies' 4-1 victory over St. Louis.

McGraw, making his fifth appearance for the Phils—and extending his scoreless relief work to 7 2/3 innings—halted a St. Louis threat in the seventh after Wayne Twitchell had walked Lou Brock and Ted Sizemore with two out.

Twitchell and McGraw combined for a five-hitter and were backed by Mike Schmidt's two-run homer, his fifth blast of the year.

In Wednesday's other NL games it was Chicago 7, Montreal 0; Los Angeles 5, Houston 1; San Francisco 6, Atlanta 2, and Pittsburgh 6, New York 1.

Bill Bonham pitched a three-hitter and got home run support from Rob Sperring and Jose Cardenal in Chicago's victory over the Expos.

"I had the best stuff early in the game, then I went mainly to the fastball," said Bonham.

For three innings, he pitched perfect ball, then gave up a leadoff single in the fourth. "You can't complain when everything works out and you get a shutout," he said.

Jim Wynn's tie-breaking single in the sixth inning and three-run homer in the eighth supported Andy Messersmith's six-hit pitching in the Dodgers' triumph over Houston.

Messersmith chalked up his ninth straight victory over two seasons and his fifth in a row this season as Los Angeles won its 11th game in the last 13 games.

Jim Barr pitched a six-hitter and Willie Montanez, in his second game since Philadelphia traded him to San Francisco, hit his first home run for the Giants to beat Atlanta.

San Francisco got two unearned runs in the first. Chris Spier doubled in the fourth and scored on Dave Rader's single, the Giants added a run in the seventh on Derrel Thomas' single. Montanez homered in the eighth and Bobby Murcer drove in the final run with a sacrifice fly in the ninth. Mike Lum homered for the Braves.

Manny Sanguillen, who drilled a pair of run-scoring doubles in Pittsburgh's 3-1 victory Tuesday night, had four of the Bucs' 16 hits against the Mets this time. And one of them scored Richie Zisk; just after Zisk had slashed a tiebreaking double in the fourth inning.

Renie Stennett's bases-loaded single off reliever Harry Parker added two runs in the sixth. Jerry Reuss, who finished with an eight-hitter for the Pirates, lost his shutout early, giving up Jesus Alou's run-scoring single in the third.

Was Buckeye Given Money By Weyers?

FAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Ohio State University defensive end Aaron Brown says he received money from Michigan State assistant coach Howard Weyers when Weyers was trying to recruit him, the Lansing State Journal reported Wednesday.

"He gave me money now and then," the paper quoted Brown as saying.

The paper said Brown sounded glib in the telephone interview from his dorm room Tuesday morning. Brown, the Journal reported, also said:

"It was only one time. It was a spur of the moment thing."

Asked about specifics and the amount of money, Brown added: "I don't want to talk on the telephone. I'd rather talk person to person. I can't give no comment. The information is supposed to be kept personal."

The Michigan State football program is under investigation by the NCAA. Weyer reportedly is a major focus of the probe.

Brown's statement was the latest in a series of disclosures that have hit Michigan State and clouded spring practice — which ended Wednesday — since the announcement that the school is being investigated by the National Collegiate Association for possible recruiting violations.

Michigan State's spring football drills have ended, but the cloud of a National Collegiate Athletic Conference probe into forbidden recruiting and athletic payoff practices remains.

Athletic department spokesmen insist the probe did not affect practice or the attitudes of the players.

Workouts began in good spirits five weeks ago, with players and coaches remembering last season's improvements and looking ahead to a possible Big Ten crown.

The Spartans compiled a 7-3 record, knocking off top ranked Ohio State in the process last season. But as Coach Dennis Clifton Wharton announced the program, he clamped an official lid of silence on the probe and appointed a special committee to provide the school's answers by early June.

The announcement immediately raised some questions. What, if anything, was done wrong and what will the NCAA do if it finds wrongdoing? With the investigation under wraps by both MSU and the NCAA, answers to the first question, branded as speculation by Wharton, came from the media.

Detroit radio station WJR said the NCAA has 40-50 allegations, most for possible recruiting violations and most involving assistant coach Howard Weyers. The Detroit Free Press reported that an MSU player bought clothes at East Lansing stores with a credit card belonging to a Lansing attorney and a longtime MSU booster. It turned out later the card had been loaned to Weyers. Three newspapers later reported the card was used at four other stores, and may have involved other players.

The answer to the second query range from exoneration to a slap on the wrist to suspension, accompanied by no television rights and no bowl game possibilities.

Shamrocks Shatter Watervliet's Hopes

Berrien Springs has all but shattered any Red Arrow conference baseball title dreams Watervliet might have entertained.

The Shamrocks jumped on Watervliet 9-1 Wednesday, dropping the Panthers' league mark to 4-3. The win leveled the Shamrock record at 4-1.

In one other conference tilt, Eau Claire routed Galien 8-1.

Greg Lausman hurled a three-hitter for the Shamrocks who picked up 10 hits themselves. Biggest blow for Berrien was a three-RBI double off the bat of Barry Adams. Tim Sunday belted a triple in a two-for-three showing, while Lausman had a double and also collected two hits. Tony Samons was a perfect three-for-three with a double.

Don Mann went the distance for coach Ross Holmes' Beavers, fanning 12 and walking six. Mann allowed just three hits.

Al Flowers sucked four singles in as many appearances for the winners, while Howard Pavides had a double and single in a nine-hit attack.

Matt Koziel led Galien with a double. The Gaels are now 3-5 in the league. Eau Claire 3-6,

SOX RALLY SHADES TWINS

Seventh 'Grand' For A's

From Associated Press

The seventh inning was just grand for the Oakland Athletics Wednesday night and for third baseman Sal Bando it was just a grand slam.

Held to two hits over the first six innings by Bill Singer, the A's erupted for nine runs in the seventh, climaxed by the seventh grand slam homer of Bando's career. The big inning made Vida Blue, a six-hitter, the American League's first six-game winner. California's run was unearned.

Bando's slam came off Chuck Dobson, the fourth California pitcher in the inning. The A's used four pinch hitters, three pinch runners and got six hits in the big rally. Gene Tenace singled home the tying run, Jim Holt put the A's ahead with a pinch single, Claudell Washington delivered a two-run single and Angel Mangual drove in a run with an infield hit.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Kansas City Royals nipped the Texas Rangers 6-5, the Baltimore Orioles edged the New York Yankees 4-3, the Boston Red Sox turned back the Cleveland Indians 4-2, the Chicago White Sox shaded the Minnesota Twins 3-2 and the Milwaukee Brewers beat the Detroit Tigers 7-5.

Kansas City got consecutive run-scoring doubles by John Mayberry and Hal McRae in the fourth inning and took a 4-0 lead behind Steve Busby. Then they scored two unearned runs that proved decisive in the eighth on two Texas errors, a walk and Jim Wohlford's run-scoring single. That offset RBI singles by Jim Sundberg and Tom Greife in the Texas ninth.

George Brett started the Royals' two-run second inning with a double and scored on a sacrifice fly by Frank White. Martinez walked, Fred Patek singled and Amos Otis scored Martinez with a single.

The Rangers scored three runs in the fifth on a walk, Roy Smalley's double, a single by Sundberg and Willie Davis' double.

Al Bumbry lashed his fourth hit, a tie-breaking bases-loaded single off relief ace Sparky Lyle with two out in the ninth inning, lifting Baltimore to victory behind the five-hit pitching of Yankee-killer Mike Cuellar.

The Orioles tied the score 3-3 on Bobby Grich's two-out two-run homer in the eighth after loser Doc Medich issued a leadoff walk to pinch hitter Tom Shapay.

Ken Singleton started the winning rally with a one-out single and took second on Brooks Robinson's sacrifice bunt. Elbie Hendricks walked.

and Lyle came on to walk pinch hitter Tommy Davis, loading the bases. Bumbry then drilled his game-winning hit to center.

Jim Rice's homer triggered Boston's tie-breaking three-run sixth inning against Fritz Peterson. Following Rice's homer, Rico Petrocelli, Dwight Evans and Tony Conigliaro singled to make it 3-1 and Evans scored on Bob Montgomery's grounder.

The Indians got a second-inning run off winner Reggie Cleveland on consecutive singles by George Headrick, Rico Carty and John Ellis. The Red Sox tied it in the fifth when Doug Griffin singled, Juan Beniquez was hit by a pitch and Rick Burleson singled. Cleveland scored again in the eighth on Oscar Gamble's triple and Boog Powell's single.

Deron Johnson's two-run pinch single with the bases loaded capped a three-run ninth-inning rally. Bert Blyleven blanked the White Sox on five hits for eight innings but was replaced by Bill Campbell after issuing a leadoff walk to Bill Melton in the ninth.

One out later, singles by Tony Muser and pinch hitter Ken Henderson produced Chicago's first run. Campbell walked Brian Downing to load the bases and Johnson greeted Tom Burgmeier with his game-winning hit. Bob Darwin doubled home Minnesota's first run in the opening inning and then smashed a sixth-inning homer.

Valley Shaves Buchanan Lead

While Buchanan was beating Benton Harbor yesterday in non-conference baseball, River Valley was trimming down the Bucks' slim Blossomland conference lead.

Buchanan turned back the Tigers 6-4 while coach Jerry Hinman's Mustangs slipped past Edwardsburg 5-3, to move within half a game of Buchanan in the league race. The Bucks are now 7-2, River Valley 6-2.

In other action, St. Joseph rolled over Holland in a non-conference affair 8-2. Niles blanked Dowagiac 5-0 in the Big Six and Sturgis dumped Branchville 7-3.

Kevin Vanderbush did the chugging for the Bucks, notching nine strikeouts and two walks. Bob Pate — who led all Harbor hitters with a triple and double — absorbed the loss.

Tom Smith singled and doubled for two Buchanan RBIs, while Dan Krieger rifled two singles.

Mickey Ott raised his pitching record to 3-1 with the win over Holland. Ott went seven innings, fanned nine and walked two while giving up just three hits.

Bubba LaBaumard stroked three hits for the Bears, including a double and two RBIs. Jeff Muskill had four RBIs on a double and two singles.

"It's good to see 11 hits," said winning coach Dave Durr of his overall 9-5 club.

River Valley's hurling win went to Dan Hinman with relief help from Steve Reinback. The Mustangs got the victory thanks to a three-run seventh frame. Reinback scored two of those runs on a blooper double, the other was tallied on a past ball.

Niles got three RBIs from Marty Appel and a homer from Kerry Kennedy. Dale Townsend was on the mound for the 4-3 Vikings. Dowagiac is 0-6 in the league.

Gallas had two singles for Brandywine, as did Terry Shaffer and Rick Zache. The Bobcats are now 6-7.

St. Joseph Girls

Tip Brandywine

NILES — St. Joseph scored seven runs in the final inning to defeat Brandywine in girls' softball here Wednesday 10-8.

Terry Collis was the winning pitcher and went three for four at the plate with a double. Cathy Bock belted a triple for the Bears, while Cindy Maddox and Sally Smith doubled. St. Joe is now 4-3 on the season.

Chieftains Dump Coloma Netters

DOWAGIAC — Dowagiac won each of its tennis matches in straight sets here Wednesday defeating Coloma 6-1.

Jim Murray took Mark Stevens 6-2, 6-2; Kurt Wiestmas got past Ellen Ostruszka 6-2, 7-5. Steve Darr turned back Jeff Jolley 6-1, 6-2 while Ken McDonald dumped Jim Ridge 6-2, 6-4.

In doubles, the team of Scott Mathews — Dave Rector turned back Joel Carlson — Mark Penoyer 6-4, 6-2 while Brooks Huff — Dave Phillips got past the sister duo of Debbie and Tammy Chiviges 6-4, 6-2.

Lone Corrie's winner was Dennis Schrieber who downed Bruce Owen 6-3, 7-5. Coloma is now 2-5.

Miller Eyes Fast Start

Seeks Front-Runner Spot In Nelson Classic

DALLAS (AP) — Johnny Miller's chance of success in the $175,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic will depend, to a great extent, on how he fares in today's first round.

"I need to get that good first round," golf's new golden boy said before teeing off in the first 18 holes of the four-day chase for a $55,000 first prize.

"I'm a front-runner," Miller said. "If I get off to a bad start I might not do too good. But if I can open up with a good round, if I can get that fast start, I might be hard to handle."

The lack of a fast start has been his problem — that is, if he has had a problem — the last couple of months.

"I haven't looked it up, but my caddy told me I haven't broken par in the first round in something like the last four or five tournaments," he said.

Actually, he hasn't broken par in the first round in his last seven starts.

And he hasn't won any of them.

By way of contrast, he won three of his first four starts this year, setting numerous records and capturing the imagination of the nation's golfing millions in the process. In every one of those, he had a first round in the 60s.

"That's been the problem, just getting off to a good start," Miller said.

For a brief time there was some question whether he would start at all. A foot infection made him doubtful starter. Some antibiotics solved the problem, however.

"It doesn't bother me at all now," Miller said before getting away on the 6,977-yard, par-71 Treston Trail Golf Club course.

Whether he wins or not, Miller appears almost certain of achieving one goal — reclaiming the No. 1 money-winning position. Miller had led that prestigious list from January 1974 until Jack Nicklaus edged past him two weeks ago in the Tournament of Champions.

Miller now trails by $1,289. Nicklaus isn't playing this week. So Johnny needs only a finish of 27th or better to regain the top spot.

Among his chief competitors are PGA champ Lee Trevino, still seeking his first victory in Texas; U.S. Open King Hale Irwin, fresh from a week's break; Australian veteran Bruce Crampton, a winner a week ago in Houston; defending title holder Buddy Allen; and Hubert Green, a four-time winner last season who's having trouble getting untracked this year.

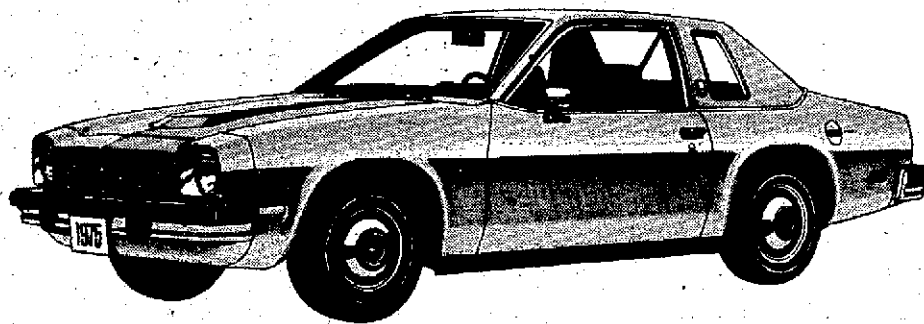

Portions of the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday will be televised nationally by ABC.

Sabres Can Clinch Cup Series Tonight

MONTREAL (AP) — Larry Carriere is a rarity in the National Hockey League.

Carriere, a member of the young Buffalo Sabres' defense, is one of the few players to move directly to the NHL from Canadian college hockey.

The 22-year-old Montreal native played with the Loyola Warriors for four seasons before being drafted by the Sabres with Buffalo captain Jim Schoenfeld in 1972.

Carriere was used to playing on a winner at Loyola and he thinks he will be on the winning side tonight when the Sabres meet the Montreal Canadiens in the sixth game of their game of their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semifinal. Buffalo leads the series 3-2.

"I believe we can win Thursday night," said Carriere. "We've got momentum and we're playing the way we can. We tried the emotion stuff

Brother Act Now At Indy

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The way things are going, with a little luck there could be five members of the Sneva clan in the starting lineup at some future Indianapolis 500-mile race.

Last year there was Tom Sneva, known as the racing schoolteacher or the mad schoolbus driver, who was the fastest rookie in the 33-car starting field.

Now there is Jerry Sneva, who was sitting peacefully at home in Spokane, Wash., earlier this week when the phone rang.

"Pack a bag and get out here," brother Tom advised. "I found you a ride."

On Tuesday, Jerry caught a flight to Indianapolis, convinced U.S. Auto Club officials to issue him a conditional competition license and headed for the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

By Wednesday afternoon, he was taking his first laps around the 2.5-mile oval in an older model Offenhauser-powered car owned by builder Frank Curtis.

Jerry sort of suspects the car won't make the May 25 race.

Like Tom, younger brother Jerry—"just an assistant manager at a car dealership"—is a graduate of the supermodified circuits in the Pacific Northwest, where brothers Babe, 23, Jan, 21, and Blaine, 18, have toiled also. Babe, however, has been in a coma since a racing crash last summer.

The comment earned a solid punch in the arm from Jerry.

Jerry, who is somewhat heavier but resembles Tom, has found the Speedway a little confusing. He was introduced to someone in the garage area as Tom Sneva and he didn't know what to do.

"Don't tell them who you really are until they find out if they have a ride for you," Tom kidded.

The only other brothers on the USAC championship circuit are Al and Bobby Unser, both former Indy winners.

"Tell Bobby and Al they don't need to worry about us for a while," Jerry said with mock seriousness. "Tom's probably ready to run with them, but I may need a little more time."

before each of the two games in Montreal. We did a lot of talking off the ice, but we didn't do anything once we got onto them.

"We got mentally prepared for Tuesday's game in a quiet way and decided we would do our thing on the ice rather than in the dressing room."

At one stage during his young hockey career, Carriere had the choice between college hockey and the juniors and elected to go to Loyola, one of the better athletic schools in Canada.

He played on two Quebec championship teams under Coach Dave Draper.

"I respect him," Carriere said of his ex-coach. "He helped me a lot. He's a great man and he knows his hockey."

Carriere said he did not regret choosing college hockey over the junior brand. One year, he tried playing junior hockey with the Verdum Maple Leafs, then of the Quebec Major Junior Hockey League, and also going to school, but finished his year at Loyola.

Canadiens' Coach Scotty Bowman said Wednesday he is sure his club will play a good deal better than they did in Buffalo Tuesday night—a game dominated by the Sabres and won 5-4 by Buffalo on Rene Robert's goal at 5:58 of overtime.

"Fundamentally, we made too many mistakes," Bowman said.

"We had three or four two-on-ones and we didn't get good shots."

"I think we'll come back tomorrow. I hope so."

LMC Golfers Win

Jim Morris and Scott Kucinsky tied for medalist honors with 84's Wednesday as the Lake Michigan College golf team turned back Kalamazoo Valley 347-358 at the Elk Hills course.

Kalamazoo had won an earlier match in April. Larry Henley took 89 for the winners and Mark Brandt 90. The Indians' next home meet is Friday against Kellogg.

North-South Champ Faces Big Test From Youngster

INEHURST, N. C. (AP) — "Let me tell you about that kid. He has no nerves. He just mows along the fairway."

That's how "old" George Burns, 25, the defending champion in the 75th North and South Amateur golf tournament, described Mark Tindler, his 18-year-old opponent in today's quarterfinals.

They were paired in the first match of the day on the 7,000-yard par 72 No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club. The winner will move to Friday's 18-hole semifinals against the winner of today's Bill Hyndman-Bobby Edgerton match.

Completing today's pairings, Pete Green of Franklin, Mich., played Jeff English of Shawnee Village, Kan., and national collegiate champion Curtis Strange of Virginia Beach, Va., met David Thore of Reidsville, N. C., his Wake Forest University teammate.

Burns, a strapping, red-haired Walker Cup player from Port Washington, N. Y., spoke about Tindler from experience. The Pebble Beach, Calif., blond carried Burns to the 19th hole in the third round of last year's National Amateur before losing on an out of bounds tee shot.

Tindler was two up with four holes to play before the match got away from him.

He hasn't forgotten that one either. Before Wednesday's double round he said he was looking forward to a rematch with Burns. Tindler said with an air of quiet determination, "It's going to be a super match."

The Californian, who enters Wake Forest on scholarship in the fall, beat two well regarded players Wednesday. After a 2 and 1 victory over Jim Gabrielsen, Walker Cup team alternate from Atlanta, he notched a 4 and

Tindler settled down after three opening bogeys to finish one under par.

Burns was three under in each match as he ousted Brian Willard of Silver Spring, Md., one up, and won 5 and 4 over Vance Heafner, Carolinas Open champion from North Carolina State University and Cary, N. C.

Hyndman, 59-year-old Huntington Valley, Pa., insurance executive, had one of the greatest days in his 25 years of North and South play. He was six under par in a 6 and 5 rout of University of North Carolina freshman Bill Buttner, of Plymouth, Mass. Butler had to hole out a 200-yard No. 3 iron shot for an eagle two on the 5th hole to snap a Hyndman string of three winning holes.

Lake Trout Ban Passed

Illinois Also Restricts Chub, Perch Fishing

CHICAGO (AP) — Sport fishing of Lake Michigan trout has been banned in Illinois, which also has placed restrictions on commercial fishing of chubs and perch.

The regulations, announced Wednesday, are part of a four-state conservation effort, said Illinois conservation director Tony Dean.

The Illinois program is related to a four-state drive aimed at protecting chubs. It also is designed to allow the lake's stock of trout to grow and prevent commercial chub fishermen from overfishing perch as a substitute catch for the chubs.

The regulations go into effect July 1.

Chubs are a small fish that are sold smoked. Dean said the lake's chub catch dwindled from a high of 12.5 million pounds in 1960 to about 3 million pounds last year. He said the regulations will limit the size and number of chubs commercial fisheries can take.

The regulations ban sport fishing of lake trout fishing for at least one year. Commercial fishing for the fish is banned already.

Dean said the Great Lakes invasion of parasitic lamprey eels in the 1940s and 1950s nearly eliminated all lake trout.

Despite massive restocking of trout fingerlings, the fish is not reproducing sufficiently to ensure its continued survival without a ban, he said. Banning sports fishing is required, he said.

because restocking of the trout "has not resulted in a self-sustaining population," he said.

Illinois' regulations were drawn up after consultations lasting nine months with other states bordering on Lake Michigan.

Chub fishing now is banned in Indiana, and Michigan and Wisconsin hope to set quotas similar to Illinois' but are involved in court suits.

The Illinois action was taken, Dean said, after biologists noticed "a catastrophic collapse in (chub) population over the past three years."

In Illinois there are 45 commercial fishermen but only 13 full-timers catching chubs, said Dean, who added that a public lottery will be held for the three licenses the state will allow. Each will be licensed to an annual catch of 30,000 pounds.

Last week, in an unrelated development, the federal government recommended that nearly 2,000 pounds of chubs caught by Michigan fisheries be seized because of high pesticide levels found in fish tested.

Dean said he believed chubs caught on Illinois' side of the lake can "be eaten safely in moderate amounts."

He also said fisheries will be limited to a maximum annual harvest of 431,000 pounds of yellow perch. Though these fish are not endangered, Dean said controls will prevent chub fishermen from overfishing perch to make up for the restrictions on chubs.

Horses Arriving At Pimlico Preakness Field Expands

BALTIMORE (AP) — At least eight horses stand ready to oppose Foolish Pleasure in the 100th running of the Preakness Stakes, with two owners willing to gamble an extra $10,000 that the Kentucky Derby winner won't take his second leg in the Triple Crown series.

Master Derby, fourth in last Saturday's Derby, and Native Guest, winner of the El Dorado Handicap at Hollywood Park, would require a $10,000 supplementary entry fee because they were not nominated for the 1 3/16 mile classic.

Native Guest, a winner of four straight, was added to the fluctuating field Wednesday when owner W.A. Levin advised that the colt would arrive Saturday at Pimlico Race Course, site of the May 17 Preakness.

Foolish Pleasure, who has lost only one of 12 career starts, is already on the Pimlico grounds. So are Avatar, Diabolo and Bold Chapeau, the second, third and eighth-place finishers in the Derby.

Master Derby, Singh and El Pitirre are due to arrive Friday. Just The Time, winner of last year's Belmont Futurity who has made only one start this season, is scheduled to check in Monday.

Saturday's running of the Preakness Prep should go a long way toward clarifying the size of the field. Foolish Pleasure will face as he continues his quest to become the 10th Triple Crown champion.

Singh, winner of the Peter Pan, Swift and a division of the Gotham before being kept out of the Derby by an injury, is expected to start in the Preakness regardless of how he fares in the Prep.

But El Pitirre, North of the Law, and possibly one or two others would have to show well in the Prep if they are to head for the $150,000 - added Preakness.

Lakers' Netters

Lose To Eddies

Edwardsburg shaded Lake Michigan Catholic in tennis Wednesday, 4-3.

Edwardsburg's Craig Humphrey downed Scott Henderson in singles 1-6, 7-5, 6-4, while Scott Williams turned back Larry Podjan 6-2, 6-2. The Eddies doubles squad of Becky Babler-Steve Stall took Jeff Paris-Brent Boon 6-4, 6-3 and Dave Kaufman-Doug Humes teamed to get past Tom Hanley-John Postelli 6-4, 3-6, 7-5.

The Lakers had singles winners in Al Bender who took Dennis Eckold 6-3, 6-3 and in Craig Meridian who blanked Jim VanZandt 6-0, 6-0. The Keith Gleiss-Mark VanArkel duo dropped Jim Hakala-Jim Schneck 6-0, 6-1. Lake Michigan Catholic is now 3-2.

begin he had something to prove. Wednesday night he and his International Hockey League expansion team showed they were the league's best, winning the Turner Cup with a 6-5 victory over the Saginaw Gears.

The winning shot came from Juri Kudrasovs, who tallied on a power play goal at 16:17 of the final period of the last game in the best-of-seven series.

Garvin came back to the IHL after being booted out by the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League and their Virginia farm club. Before coaching Detroit, he guided Port Huron to a Turner Cup in 1973.

Garvin vowed he would "show some people some hockey" when he agreed to coach the new Toledo club this season, and made the vow come true, drawing a surprising number of fans into the Toledo arena and sparking games with shows of temper.

The first period of Wednesday's game, on enemy ice for the Goaldiggers, ended in a 1-1 tie. John Gravel opened the scoring for Saginaw at 11:21 of the first period, but Toledo's Don Westbrook matched that at 17:05.

In the second period Toledo scored at 2:25 when Ian MacPhee hit. Saginaw's Stu Irving followed with two goals.

Bud Bowlers To Meet May 18th

The sweepstakes and annual meeting of the Men's Bloomington Bowling Association will be held Sunday, May 18, at Lakes Bowl in Sister Lakes.

Activities begin at noon with bowling. Food will be served and door prizes handed out. The meeting, in which city tournament trophies will be awarded, will start at 3:30 p.m.

Tickets are $6 per person. The price includes bowling, food and door prizes. For more information call Ernie Thompson at 825-0262.

one at 8:31 and the other at 8:32. Toledo's Jim McCabe scored at 15:29 before Saginaw hit twice more. Dennis Desrosiers lit the light at 16:44, and Jim Johnston scored at 18:30.

Donnie Craig closed out the second period's scoring for Toledo with a goal at 18:53 and Saginaw skated off with a 5-4 lead to the delight of 5,315 fans at the Saginaw Civic Center.

In the third period, Michael Laurendeau tied it for Toledo at 3:15, setting up Kudrasovs' clincher.

Toledo goalie Ted Tucker turned away 44 shots while Gears' goalie Rollie Kimble kicked out 31.

Hurdlers Climb On Honor Roll

Dennis Bacon scored a triple for Dowagiac, but it wasn't enough to keep Lakeshore from winning a non-conference track and field meet with the Chiefs 75-48.

Bacon — ranked in three honor roll categories — sped to victory in the 120 high hurdles with a brisk 15.1 clocking...second best in the area this spring.

Lancer Tom Jager was right on his heels, taking second with an honor roll 15.3 showing. Jager tied the school record with this performance.

Bacon was also victorious in the long jump and low hurdles. Lancer Mike Holland took firsts in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Paw Paw had little difficulty with South Haven in their Wolverine conference encounter winning 83-30. Ed Dow won the shotput and low hurdles for the Redskins, while Leroy Rushing was a double winner in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Mike Thompson captured firsts in the 440 and 880 yard runs for Paw Paw.

South Haven got an honor roll performance out of its winning 880 yard relay team. The quartet of Marc Till, Jerry Hinkle, Bill Gamble and Andy Newell posted a 1:35.0 time to better fifthplace standing by half a second.

Chuck Brynelsen won the two mile race in 9:58.2 to improve on his honor roll clocking by eight-tenths of a second.

Marc Moeller led Pennville to a 77-46 win over Saugatuck with victories in both the pole vault and shot put.

Viking James Crawford won the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and Frank Yankovich took all corners in the shotput and pole vault, as Bangor lost to Parchment 80-43.

In girls' track, Lakeshore took Buchanan and Coloma in a double duel.

Lancer Gail Nichols moved to the top of the honor roll with her 13:57.8 clocking in the two-mile run. Teammate Peggy Root handed Patience Vanderbush her first loss of the season in the 880 run. Lakeshore is now 7-1 on the year.

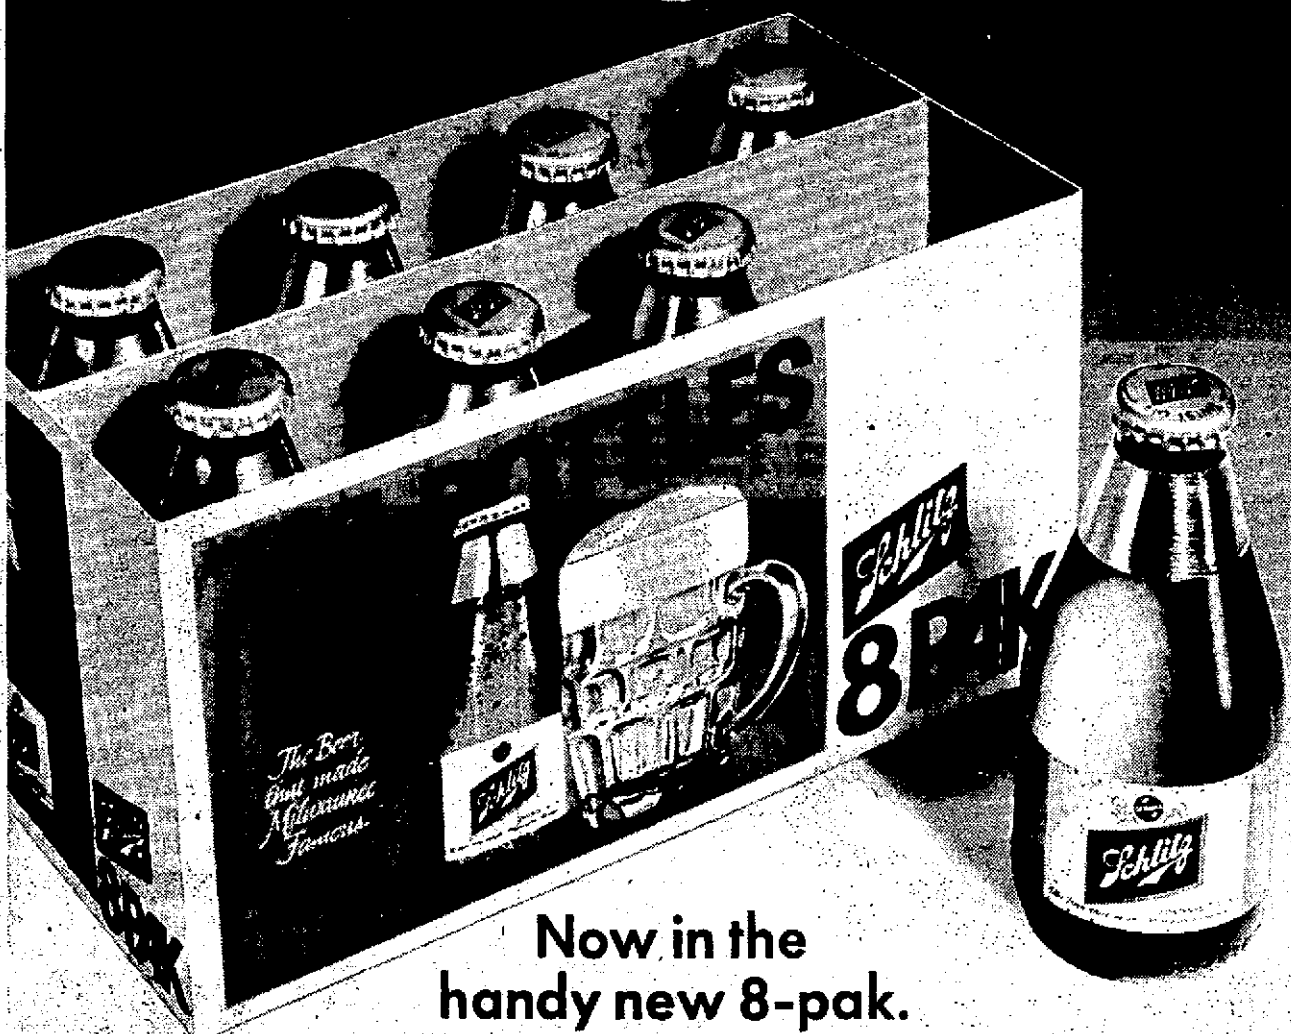

Bear Netters Bow

Niles earned a 6-1 tennis victory over St. Joseph Wednesday on the Bears' courts.

The No. 2 doubles pair of Jeff Bailliff-Jon Farmer beat Mark Herman-Pete Bigford 6-1, 7-6 for the Bears' lone win.

Niles' singles winners were Scott Spoerl, Randy Mace, Andy Bigford and Terry Wood while Dan Nepsted-Brian Eden and Mike Carothers-Phil Anderson took doubles wins.

TINA: Back with her hubby?

HACKMAN: Simple life with same wife.

It Can't Happen To A Dog

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The Clark County sheriff's department is trying to collect fines on parking violations on a car registered to Tony Pomocinski. But Tony is a dog, the sheriff says. Tony's owner, Anthony Cafco, was charged by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles with making a false statement. The bureau contends Cafco bought the car Jan. 31, 1974, and signed the application for certificate of title and power of attorney for his dog.

Has Tina Left Her Hairdresser? 'Shampoo' Backlash Brewing

Q: With hairdressers now taking over the world, a la "Shampoo," will we soon have our running for President? Ugh! — C.W., San Antonio, Tex.

A: Don't despair. A "Shampoo" backlash may be starting up. Tina Sinatra is reported to have left her hairdresser friend, Hugh York, and gone back to hubby, Wes Farrell, a record company executive. Divorce proceedings have been called off. Frank Sinatra, by the way, is said to approve the move. He isn't wild about Wes but he likes him better than Hugh.

Q: Have Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton gotten together at all since their separation? — D.S., Bangor, Maine

A: Not that we know of but they might meet later this year when they are both scheduled to appear in a California courtroom to answer a $2 million suit against them by Ronald Galella, the photographer who lost a fight with Jackie Onassis a while back. Galella claims Burton ordered his bodyguards to beat him up because he was snapping pictures of Elizabeth on a Mexico film location. Galella also has a $250,000 suit going against Marlon Brando for allegedly breaking his jaw on a Manhattan street.

Q: Is the actor Gene Hackman married? — F.R., Gainesville, Tex.

A: The Oscar-winner ("The French Connection") has been married for 20 years to wife Fay, who used to work as a secretary so her husband could keep trying to act. The Hackmans live a simple life with no affectations. They call their dog "Popchue" and were irri-

"Pucci," after the elegant fashion house.

Q: With our Equal Rights for Women amendment stalled for this year, does this put us behind other Western countries? — K.L., Stockton, Calif.

A: Well, England has a sex discrimination bill now going through Parliament. There is a problem, however, with all those hereditary titles among the peerage which are handed down to the first male heir. With the sexes treated equally, Princess Anne would jump ahead of her two younger brothers to be second in line for the throne after Prince Charles. The British law specifically does not apply to this touchy area.

Q: Robert Redford is always touted as perfect in stories. What are the negatives? — E.V., Philadelphia, Pa.

A: Well, Redford has "Black Irish" moods and has many pet hates. For instance, on the "No" side, he dislikes: "Labels, drop-outs, hunting, business, uniforms, golf, the Fifties, grabby fans, waste, the repetition in acting, planning ahead, Hollywood, Forest

New Electronic Gadget Fools Hungry Mosquito

ORTONVILLE, Mich. (AP) — Fred Howard learned to hate mosquitoes when he spent his days — and nights — on Hensstead Lake developing wingless fruit flies in 1962.

The flies, they food for the palates of tropical fish, brought him immediate acclaim from tropical fish fanciers around the world.

The flies were in such demand Howard was able to quit teaching and establish a mail order house for tropical fish hobbyists that he says has grown into a $125,000-a-year business.

Now, Howard hopes the tiny "electronic mosquito repeller" — which he began marketing after years of dodging and swatting on the lake near his Ortonville home — will bring him more fame and money.

Howard's Aqua Engineers firm, located in his house about two blocks from the center of this southeastern Lower Michigan community, is the only Michigan distributor for the pocket-sized weapon that he claims plays tricks on female mosquitoes.

The female mosquito is most vicious towards humans when she is carrying eggs, Howard explains. She will attack sometimes as many as 96 times a minute.

"To counterattack, we have learned that the male mosquito is a vegetarian, and while the female is looking for human blood she fights off the male mosquitoes," Howard says.

"Our electronic repellent emits a message similar to that of the male mosquito and drives the female away from her human victim," he says.

Howard says even he doesn't fully understand why this small gadget works. He says when he heard of the sonic mosquito fighter, he contacted Progressive Electronics Corp. of Dallas, Tex., and was encouraged by their research reports.

In a test documented by Dallas laboratories, Howard says, two 55-gallon barrels were filled with water and placed 20 feet apart inside a warehouse area.

A Mosquito Repeller was placed in one barrel and after two weeks there were no signs of the insects. However, in the other barrel — minus the device — infant mosquitoes were found, Howard says.

The nine-volt battery emits a barely audible high-pitched tone and has a life of 125 hours.

Fishermen, boaters, picnickers and backyard gardeners are guaranteed the mosquitoes will stay at least eight feet away as long as they are wearing one of Howard's devices, he says.

"Just imagine a summer with a repeller that will keep mosquitoes away from you," Howard says, looking out his back window at the lake. "I think a lot of people will like that."

House Eyes Key Energy Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — House tax writers face last-minute decisions on two key issues as they complete work on a major energy bill that carries higher gasoline taxes.

A final decision was expected in the Ways and Means Committee today on the size of oil import quotas that will be part of the package. The panel also was to decide whether to include in the bill a windfall profits tax on petroleum producers.

Weesaw Declines Donation For Tennis Courts

NEW TROY — Weesaw township board voted last night not to join three other governmental units in contributing money for construction of tennis courts at River Valley high school.

Township Supervisor Allan Boyd cited a lack of money and too many other township needs as among the reasons for turning down a township contribution of $3,100 towards construction of the courts to cost $14,000.

Chikaming and Three Oaks townships and the village of Three Oaks have voted local funds to go along with $8,000 in federal revenue sharing funds for construction of the courts at the high school.

The federal funds were allocated to the school district through the Berrien county Parks and Recreation commission.

Students in Weesaw township attend the River Valley school district, as do most of those students from the other three governmental units.

Mrs. Lena Abrahamson of Chikaming township and Larry Fisher, director of the school district's community education program, appeared before the Weesaw board to seek the contribution.

Mrs. Abrahamson said the Weesaw contribution was based on the number of students from Weesaw township that attend the school district.

She said an appeal will now be made to civic groups in the area to raise money for construction of the courts.

No school district funds are involved, she said.

She said Chikaming township has voted a donation of about $3,000; Three Oaks village about $2,100; and Three Oaks township, about $1,400.

In other areas last night, the township board adopted its own penal code in dealing with nuisances, including weed control, dogs and junk cars. The code will become effective after it is published.

The board also announced $30,000 in road work, in cooperation with the Berrien county road commission, to include one mile of Holden road and repair of the Holden road bridge, Elm Valley road, from the Chikaming township line to Avery road; and Oak, Detroit and State streets in New Troy; and chloride gravel road intersections and gravel roads in front of homes for dust control.

In a related matter, Boyd announced that $9,283 in federal revenue sharing funds will be used for township road work.

Township Police Chief Bill Daniel requested a traffic safety survey for the Higley lake and Cleveland avenue intersection and a speed survey through the unincorporated village of Glenora.

The board also approved $500 in expenditures for paper materials and new uniforms for the township's four-man police department.

Ask Your Dentist

By ALFRED E. SEYLER, D.D.S.

Q. Can capping correct a protrusion to the upper front teeth? also is a root canal filling necessary if a front tooth is capped?

A. In some instances, capping front teeth can improve one's appearance if one has protruding teeth. Your dentist must take several things into consideration, however, and no doubt would make models of your teeth to study and show you. For example, he must be sure that when he corrects the protrusion by making the caps fit farther back in your mouth, that the lower teeth will not strike the caps hard enough to break them or loosen them. He must also consider whether the caps can be of proper size when they are used in the lesser amount of space available.

A root canal filling is not necessary for every capped tooth. Only when a nerve may be exposed or if a metal "core" is inserted into the tooth root.

Q. I can buy toothbrushes for fifteen cents — or eighty-five cents. Is there any real difference between them? B.B.K.

A. Yes, I think there are a few differences which are important. Just like any tool, a toothbrush should feel right to your grip. The bristles should be well anchored to the head of the brush; they should be soft and rounded on the end so you can wiggle the soft bristles along and just under the gum line. That's where dental plaque builds up, works its way under the gum line and begins periodontal (gum) disease.

One of the best brushes has three rows of nylon bristles, with 18 tufts, rounded on the ends. Others have more tufts, making a bigger brush, which you really don't need.

Q. Does smoking really harm the teeth?

A. Probably smoking does not harm the teeth themselves, except to stain them.

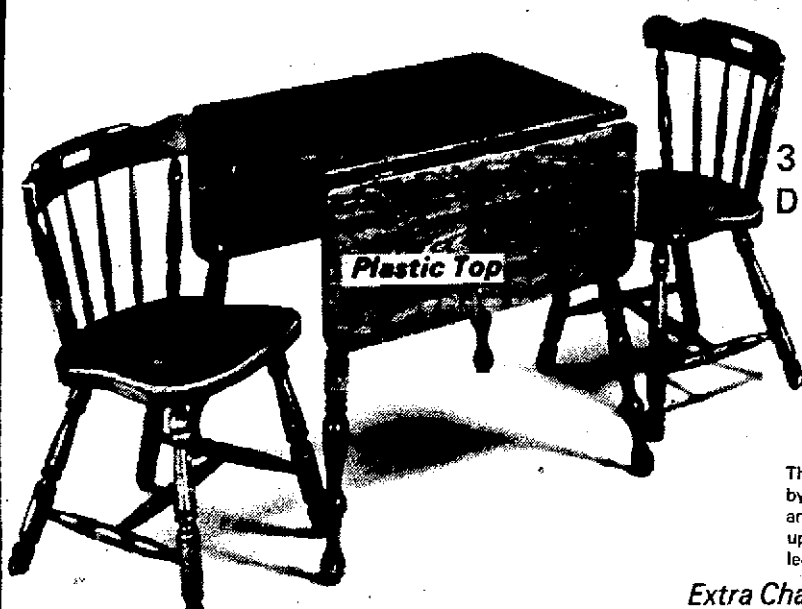

However, smokers seem to have poorer oral hygiene than non-smokers, and studies have shown that gum diseases occur more frequently in smokers — and that includes cigar and pipe smokers as well as cigarette smokers.

EX-SHERIFF'S DEPUTY DIES IN CRASH

FRED FOSTER
Driver of carANTHONY DEBARTOLO
Killed in crashBerrien Springs Police Car
Slams Into Utility Pole

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau
BERRIEN SPRINGS — A former Berrien county sheriff's deputy from Berrien Springs was killed early today when a police cruiser he was riding in slammed into a utility pole here.

Deputies said the officer driving the car was responding to a radio call for assistance from another officer when the crash occurred. The driver swerved to miss a slow moving car and slammed into the pole, according to sheriff's deputies.

Killed was Anthony DeBartolo, 24, 208 North Maplewood drive, Berrien Springs. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, from massive internal injuries.

The Berrien Springs village-Oronoko township police car, driven by patrolman Fred Foster, slammed into the pole at the passenger's side door and wrapped partially around it, pinning the victim inside.

Foster suffered bruises and was treated and later released from Memorial hospital, St. Joseph, according to Deputy Michael Renkawitz.

Renkawitz said Foster was responding to a call for assistance from fellow officer, Carl Manning who radioed for help at 12:30 a.m. after having trouble in arresting a motorist.

Foster told deputies he was headed north on US-31-33 when he came upon a slow-moving auto just south of George street near the Berrien Springs village limits. He told deputies he braked and swerved to avoid an accident, lost control of the village-township police cruiser and crashed into a utility pole.

Renkawitz said the auto Foster avoided hitting left the scene after a second motorist who drove upon the crash scene used the radio in the police car to call for help. The deputy said police want to interview the driver and asked that anyone with information about the crash contact the sheriff's department.

The man who Renkawitz said radioed for help was identified as Ray Booser of Berrien Springs. Booser said he saw Foster pass him with the flashing lights on the police car operating in downtown Berrien Springs. Seconds later, Booser told deputies, he drove upon the crash scene.

Renkawitz said Foster had not sounded the police car siren. The cruiser was traveling between 65 to 70 miles per hour when the crash occurred, Foster told deputies.

DeBartolo was pinned inside the wreckage for nearly an hour before Berrien Springs firemen and a wrecker freed him, Renkawitz said. He said Foster was knocked unconscious by the crash.

Victor Yost, Berrien Springs-Oronoko police chief, said it had not been determined why DeBartolo was riding in the police car.

DeBartolo's mother, Mrs. E. A. Krogstad, said her son and Foster were close friends and he had ridden with Foster while the patrolman was on duty Tuesday night.

Renkawitz said investigation of the accident is continuing. The death was the 14th traffic fatality in Berrien county this year.

Mrs. Krogstad said her son was a Berrien county sheriff's deputy in 1972 and 1973, and left the department to attend Columbia Union college near Washington D. C. He had been visiting relatives and friends during a school break, she said.

Mrs. Krogstad said her son had his name legally changed from Ron Krogstad to DeBartolo while employed by the sheriff's department.

Berrien Springs-Oronoko police said the call triggering the drive by Foster involved efforts by Manning to arrest a motorist that he had stopped on US-31 at Hinchman road, about two miles from the crash scene.

Officers said a scuffle had broken out, triggering the call for aid.

Arrested on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicants as a result was Lloyd Zech, 61, route 1, Hinchman road.

Police said Manning, Zech and two county metro crime unit officers, George Volrath and George Tiernan, who went to aid Manning, were injured in the scuffle. Zech was admitted to Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, for observation, officers said.

Land Gift Adds 80 Acres To Cass College Campus

By ALAN AREND
Staff Writer

DOWAGIAC — Southwestern Michigan college's campus here has been increased by 51 per cent as a result of a donation of 80 acres of land to the college by the late Everett M. Claspy of Dowagiac.

Announcement of the land gift was made yesterday by the college's board of trustees at a news conference held on the campus.

The 80-acre parcel is located directly west of and adjacent to the present SMC campus, separated only by Daily road. The new land area enlarges the campus from its present 158 acres to 238 acres.

Dr. Fred Mathews, SMC board chairman said, "I am sure I speak not only for the board of trustees, but for every citizen of the college's district, in expressing our deepest gratitude to Mr. Claspy. We are also very grateful to Mrs. Gordon Mumaugh of Dowagiac, the executrix of the estate, without whose fine cooperation the transfer of this property to the college would not have been possible."

Mathews said the gift is the result of two years of necessary negotiations, paper work, legal and probate procedures. Members of the board had conversations with Mr. Claspy as far back as 1964 regarding the relationship of his land to the college," he said. "Mr. Claspy, a Dowagiac resident, was one of the college's greatest supporters and seldom missed a graduation or a cultural event on campus. His vision for the future of Southwestern Michigan college will be appropriately recognized and perpetuated at a later date."

Immediate use of the land, will be for a large natural wooded area, nature trails, forestry, agricultural and biology studies, and jogging trails, Dr. Mathews said.

"It will serve to help retain the college's rural setting and environment which is a feature of Southwestern Michigan college we all want to preserve," Mathews said.

Mathews also extended the college's thanks to the heirs of the Claspy estate "who fully cooperated in the transfer of this land to the college," he said. "They are Hugh Claspy, Ralph Claspy, Francis Cook, Mary Louise Englehart, Henrietta Foster, Joseph Gebhard and Mary Shumsky and John Pendergrass, attorney for the estate."

Mathews also extended thanks to the state department of natural resources, co-benefactor of the land, "which graciously consented to honor the intent of Mr. Claspy's wishes and stepped aside so the college would be sole owner."

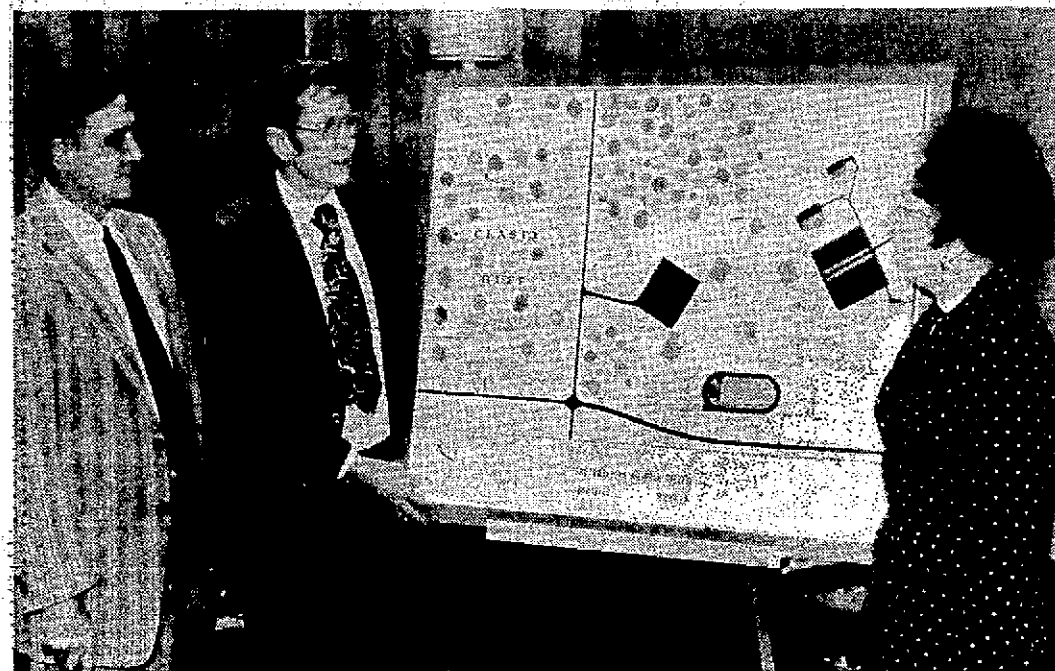

Mr. Claspy was a graduate of Dowagiac high school, Kalamazoo college, and received a master's degree from the University of Michigan.

At various points in his career he was an instructor at the University of Notre Dame, a political history researcher for the government of Australia, a 15-year employee of the US State department, and the author of three books about Cass county history.

He died on April 7, 1973, at the age of 86.

NETTING TROUT ILLEGALLY

Father, Sons Convicted

A father and two sons were convicted by a jury Tuesday in Berrien Fifth District court of illegally netting 29 steelhead trout in Love creek, near Berrien Springs, March 29.

Found guilty and placed on presentence investigation were Henry, Michael and Larry Mroczek, all of 82nd avenue, Decatur.

Henry Mroczek, 47, is the father of Michael, 23, and Larry, 21. Also charged with the offense was Jacolyn Mae Stutsman, 19, of Route 1, Marcellus. Following testimony the charge against her was dismissed because testimony indicated that she caught no fish.

While the men were charged with netting the fish, which weighed a total of 211 pounds from Love creek, they said in defense that they caught the fish on poles in the St. Joseph river. Among those to testify were William Edwards, conservation officer who made the arrest.

A second conservation officer testified that the trout showed no indications that they had been hooked. Mroczek and his sons remain free on $1,000 personal recognizance bonds.

PASSENGER KILLED: Berrien Springs village-Oronoko township police car rests near utility pole on US-31-33 at village's north limits early this morning after crash in which passenger, former Berrien county sheriff's deputy Anthony DeBartolo, 24, 208 North Maplewood drive, Berrien Springs, died. Van Buren School
Race Attracts Five

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

LAWRENCE — Five candidates are in the running for two, six-year terms on the Van Buren intermediate school board to be decided in an election here June 2.

The two spots open are those of Trustees William Wood of Paw Paw, who is not seeking re-election, and Rex Allen of Lawrence, who has filed for another term.

Other candidates announced by Supt. Elmer VanDyke at last night's intermediate board meeting are Bonnie L. Gane of Lawton, Keith Ponegalek of Mattawan, Felix Racette of Paw Paw, and Frances G. Sage of Gobles.

The election will be held at 7:30 p.m. with each of the system's 12 school districts allowed one vote through a designated representative.

In other business, the board approved the authorization of $600,000 purchase instructional equipment for the Van Buren Skills Center. The authorization will qualify more equipment purchases, according to assistant Supt. Ernest Shaw.

Shaw said the $600,000 authorization will not be broken down into specific areas until there has been a chance to evaluate various equipment choices. S. Ward Ritchie, skills center director, said he sought price quotations rather than actual bids in order to get an idea of prices.

Bert Goens, special education director, announced that he was working on sets of brochures and posters to explain the upcoming June 9 millage proposals. County voters will decide whether to approve a 1.5-mill property tax for special education programs which would raise about $425,000. A second proposal involves a $1,010,000 bond issue for 10 years to build, furnish, and equip a facility for the handicapped.

It would another .48-mill to the district's tax rate.

The board also approved a contract with Consumers Power to provide electric power for the skills center, and gave the utility a 10-foot wide easement for cables and a gas line to the center.

Dowagiac Man Hurt
In Boat Accident

A 67-year-old Dowagiac man was reported in "critical" condition today with a head injury after he was involved in a boat accident Wednesday on the St. Joseph river at Benton Harbor.

The U.S. Coast Guard station at St. Joseph reported Reginald McIntyre, 67, Dowagiac, was in a 16-foot outboard motorboat which smashed into pilings of the old Penn Central railroad bridge in the mainstream.

The accident occurred about 6 a.m. just north from the public boat landing on Riverview drive. McIntyre was taken to Benton Harbor Mercy hospital for what was termed apparent facial lacerations. He was treated and released, from Mercy, according to investigating Benton Harbor Patrolman John Pagel.

He was later admitted to South Bend Memorial hospital about 5 p.m. Wednesday and placed under intensive care, according to hospital officials.

there. Driver of the boat was identified as Larry Guntle, Dowagiac. He was not injured.

The accident was the third in two days in local waters. A boat sank and another was washed ashore Tuesday in Lake Michigan near the south pier, St. Joseph.

The Coast Guard urges all boaters to use extreme caution when near bridge pilings in the St. Joseph river where yesterday's accident occurred and in the Morrison channel where bridge construction is being done.

PACT REJECTED

CADILLAC, Mich. (AP) — Striking United Auto Workers turned down a contract offer by Kysor Industrial Corp. by a vote of 164-43 Wednesday and a company spokesman says the final offer has been made. The spokesman said Kysor offered a 34-per cent wage increase over the three years of the contract plus a 26 per cent hike in pension benefits.

RECEIVES AWARD: Anthony John Kovac, Niles community school and adult education director, received Adult Educator of Year award last night from Berrien-Cass Adult Community and Continuing Education association. Ceremonies attended by 200 were held at Andrews university in Berrien Springs.

IT ISN'T AN EXACT SCIENCE

Need Governs Accounting Policies

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the major roles of accountants is to produce comprehensible reports on the financial condition of corporations. Sometimes the results are more than the public can understand.

The problem is that there's more than one way to report, and those different methods might produce remarkably different appearances, as investors learn from time to time.

Accounting is not an exact science any more than is the law. A full time, seven-man Financial Accounting Standards Board is constantly checking methods and issuing instructions on what can and cannot be done.

During the past week Ford Motor reduced a $105.8 million first-quarter loss to $10.6 million by changing its accounting method. Chrysler Corp. reduced a $116.9 million loss to $94.1 million.

In each instance the reduction was accomplished by switching to the "flow through" method of accounting for investment tax credits and abandoning the deferred accounting technique.

In the deferred method, a company amortizes the tax credit, which was raised recently to 10 per cent from 7 per cent, over the life of the newly installed equipment.

Under flow through, amortizing is out. The entire tax benefit is permitted to flow right on through to the first year, uninterrupted by amortization.

William Bousquette, assistant controller of Ford, explained it this way:

"You buy equipment worth

$1,000, on which you can claim a 10 per cent investment tax credit. When you put it into service you get a $100 tax credit, because on flow through the credit is included in income when received.

"On the old, deferred basis, which had been followed by Ford, that $100 tax credit would have been taken into income over the life of the asset. A 10-year life would have meant $10 each year for 10 years."

In other words, no magic, no cheating, and over the long run, probably no marked impact on the financial fortunes of the company. But the immediate appearance is changed, and markedly so, and that counts with investors.

For one thing, while Ford did manage to make its losses look less embarrassing for the present, it probably made future profits a bit less attractive because it won't have those amortized tax benefits.

This isn't the first time that corporations have switched methods in order, as they see it, to give a fairer report of their financial condition.

Within the past couple of years one company after another switched from "fido" to "lifo" accounting in order to minimize what they called inventory profits resulting from inflation. Such profits, it was said, were illusory.

Under fifo, or first in-first out accounting, the profit on a company's goods was calculated on the basis of the price paid for the oldest items in the inventory — the items that came in first. If an item came in at $5 and went out at $10 it meant a profit of $5.

But inflation drove many companies away from that technique. They really weren't making that kind of money at all, they argued, because it was costing them $8 to replace the sold item.

They resorted, therefore, to lifo, or last in-first out accounting. For accounting purposes, they valued their entire inventory on the basis of last in and first out.

Some people still think the flow through is gimmickry, and Bousquette concedes its tough to dispel that notion.

"We were very sensitive" about the situation, he said. "We clearly showed what our losses would have been without this change."

Two factors influenced the decision to change, he said.

First, the new technique, which incidentally is used by most industrial companies, gives a clearer picture of the government's impact in raising the investment tax credit. "It makes sense," says Bousquette.

A second reason concerned the standards board, which likes to see accounting changes made in the first quarter of the year, if at all, in order to provide continuity throughout the year.

Some Good Advice From Ann Landers

In my daily newspaper column, I try to help people with their problems. Unfortunately, there's one problem I can't help people with because it's a problem they don't know they have: high blood pressure. 23 million Americans have high blood pressure...and most of them have no symptoms. A person could walk around with it for years and not know it.

And the heart failure, stroke, or kidney disease it may cause can hit him with no warning. High blood pressure is a silent disease and it's a killer.

To protect yourself against it, see your doctor and get your blood pressure checked today. I have never given more important advice.

Europe Observes VE Day

By Associated Press

Europe today marked the 30th anniversary of the Allied defeat of Nazi Germany with wreaths, parades, speeches, and the Soviet Union declared an amnesty for war veterans.

The Kremlin said it would release an undisclosed number of Russians from jails and labor camps under a decree timed to coincide with the celebrations of the end of World War II in Europe.

In Czechoslovakia, occupied by Hitler's forces before the war began in 1939, the Communist party central committee met in Prague Castle for a V-E day ceremony. Speakers including party leader Gustav Husak praised the Soviet army for liberating the country.

But no mention was made of the American troops who liberated parts of the country to within 30 miles of Prague.

News reports said there was little jubilation among the Czechs on the anniversary.

East Germany's Communist party daily Neues Deutschland proclaimed on the anniversary: "We may count ourselves among the victors of history."

Official celebrations were planned for Friday.

West Germany marked V-E Day on Wednesday with a state commemoration led by President Walter Scheel. But the leadership of the opposition Christian Democrats, who feel such ceremonies are no longer necessary, did not attend.

Scheel said in Bonn: "Our former enemies celebrate (V-E Day). The sacrifices they made for their victory over injustice certainly entitle them to do so."

PREDICTION: Ronald Reagan, above, former California governor and presidential aspirant, answers questions during news conference in Chicago on Wednesday. Reagan said Laos will fall before the Pathet Lao, and that other Southeast Asian countries have begun talks with communists as a result of the United States' failure to live up to its commitments. (AP Wirephoto)

We remember their sacrifices and all the dead of the war with profound respect. We do not forget that the liberation came from outside."

More than 35 million people, military and civilian, died in Europe during World War II — 20 million in the Soviet Union, four million Germans and 1.6 million among the Western allies.

The British government officially ignored the anniversary of V-E Day — when Nazi Germany surrendered to the Allies to end World War II in Europe. No special ceremonies were scheduled.

In France, President Giscard d'Estaing, a war veteran, took the salute Wednesday night at a military parade at Mourmelon army camp in the Marne.

first name is "Kay" is not a woman as many people seem to think, so if you vote for him, you are not putting another woman on the board. Erickson's wife is a teacher in the Coloma system, so he will always go along with what the superintendent wants, also. Basically, this is a distinct conflict of interest.

But this doesn't seem to matter in the Coloma system. Merlin Hauch, a board member for many years, employees his wife in the Coloma system, and Dr. Gales's son has for many years been a teacher in the Coloma system. At various other times, board members wives have been employed throughout the Coloma system.

By the way, the Coloma school board does not run the Coloma schools — the superintendent does. In other systems, the superintendent works for the board — something seems to be wrong in Coloma. We'll see what happens when the superintendent marries one of the teachers to whom he is presently engaged — (this has not been made public yet, either.)

We need some new blood on the Coloma Board of Education. We need some people who will rid our system of the corruption that has been going on for many, many years. We need some people on our board who can't be "paid off" when things get too hot. If you're a person, strong in your convictions, whose children cannot be intimidated because you're on the board, get your petitions in today!

ORIGINAL STAND IS RESTATED

Editor,
In the "Editor's Mailbag" column on Wednesday, April 30, Mr. Leonard E. Anderson responded to a letter I gave to Representative Hutchinson on April 4 which appeared in your column Saturday, April 24.

Several people have taken exception to points in my original letter, even to the referenced paragraph V. Only one of these respondents apparently has taken this as a personal challenge.

If I may reply, then, to Mr. Anderson's letter, I wish to point out that it was only he who, quite succinctly, directed attention to a Twin Cities problem. Also, quite out of context, he too used the words "white" and "black" in his letter, and thereby, gave a purely racial factor to the discussion that is neither all black nor all white. Nevertheless, ADC is predominantly a minority-group problem in our country.

I state again from my original letter: "V. ADC is a business. Illegitimate children among minority groups appears to be a way of life and only a means to a monetary end. In my opinion, first-time, pregnant mothers should be allowed one 'mistake.' (Any) second illegitimate pregnancy should be, by law, terminated by abortion, and the woman sterilized. If, by some means, the second pregnancy should be carried to term, no monetary advantage should accrue to the parent."

Mr. Anderson, my original letter was delivered to a national legislator, not a Berrien county commissioner as I recognize this as a national problem to be dealt with at any responsible level.

As to "black" and "white" ADC recipients at the local level: as a trained sociologist, Mr. Anderson, please tell me where do the percentages lie?

I may be WASP-ish. I really don't know, but surely not in the sense that you have observed in the south. Or, perhaps not as severely when I sincerely believe Mr. Leonard E. Anderson to be a scholar, a gentleman, and (I hope) still a personal friend.

OPEN HOUSE NOT ATTENDED

Editor,
I would just like to let the general public and especially the residents of the Benton Harbor area schools, know what kind, thoughtful, and courteous administration people we are paying from our tax money, here in this school system.

On Sunday May 4th we held an open house in honor of one of the finest teachers in the system, Mrs. Louise Boudard, a Sorter school.

There was not one person from our administration personnel or "elected" school board members present.

Although there were no special invitations sent, it was publicized in The Herald-Palladium, and it was also at the very top of the B.H. school calendar on Saturday.

I'm sure these people were well aware of what was taking place. If not, there certainly is a lack of communication some where.

It seems to me that either our superintendent or someone from personnel or even a few of the board members could have come out for this event. Not only would it be common courtesy, but I think it is a part of their job to take part in these activities.

Since Mrs. Boudard worked as a very dedicated teacher and put a lot of extra time and work over these 15 years, the least these people could do was to give her part of one afternoon to honor her for it.

So, once again, thank you, to the school administration of Benton Harbor. I'm sure we, the public, will be just as thoughtful when it comes time for a mileage increase for higher wages, for all you "good people".

Another thanks must go out to The Herald-Palladium for so graciously printing the picture and write-up in the very last section and nearly the last page of the paper. And by the way, there were four sections to Thursday's paper. I guess you have to be certain people to make even first section paper any more.

Mrs. Don Zerbe

IT'S 'POT CALLING KETTLE BLACK'

Editor,
So something earth-shaking happened when the post office deleted the time from their cancellation mark!

According to your editorial, why post office flags should be lowered to half-staff and mail carriers should wear black armbands from now on.

Now then, when you (and all other newspapers) deleted the deadline from your papers, you offered no apology nor did you even mention it.

I say this is a case of the "pot calling the kettle black".

Yours for a fair shake!
Ernest H. Kasischke
Retired Mail Carrier

EDITOR'S NOTE: With newspapers, John Q. Public has a choice. The postal service is a government monopoly he has to use.

MINNEAPOLIS TV STATION

Viewers Get To Pick Their Films

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Station officials usually decide what old movies will be shown and when during non-network hours. But a Minnesota TV station says it recently invited the public in on the programming act.

And while Minneapolis area viewers didn't get to decide the time WCCO-TV airs their favorite flicks, they did get to help pick most of the films shown since Feb. 10 from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. on weekdays.

"The idea was to get audience involvement and hopefully increase our ratings," says Tom Cousins, WCCO's promotion director. "And it's almost doubled our ratings for that afternoon show."

It began, he said, when WCCO last October ran a two-page ad in local newspapers, polling viewers on their old-movie favorites from a list of 650 films — none older than 1970 vintage — in WCCO's film library.

Viewers also were asked whether they'd like the films on at 10:30 p.m., at "Midnight or other" or at 3:30 p.m.

Cousins said the films were characterized as "Gems from the 30s and 40s," "Singing and Dancing Extravaganzas" and "Chilling Tales of Horror and Science Fiction," among other things.

Students at Holy Angels Academy, an area high school, tabulated the complete results. When the final tally was in, more than 6,000 Minneapolis area residents had voted in the picture poll, WCCO says.

According to their count, the highest vote — 1,738 — went to "The Thin Man," a 1934 comedy classic, with four "Thin Man" sequels following in popularity: The least-popular movie "Dime With a Halo," got 79 votes.

Most viewers — 3,723 — wanted their old movies on at 10:30 p.m., while just 993 wanted the weekday afternoon time period. But WCCO had to put the voter-approved films in the latter time period because its current late-night schedule isn't suitable for a string of "movie weeks" featuring films voted on by viewers.

Cousins said the station's 10:30 p.m. slot now is filled with CBS late-night movies on Sundays, Mondays and Tuesday night and WCCO's own "Comedy and Classics" double-bill at that time Friday nights.

Since Feb. 10, he said, his station has filled its 3:30-5:30 p.m. weekday slot with 12 "movie weeks" reflecting the top choices of the viewer poll. This week, for example, is devoted to Jerry Lewis films.

Next week's offering of nature films doesn't reflect the poll, he added, but the viewer picks resume May 19 with "Vincent Price Week."

He said the poll's movie weeks will continue, but he didn't think all 650 films voted on by viewers will appear in them.

"I doubt if we'll go to the bottom of the list, because some of them were pretty lousy," he admitted.

Utilities Told To Use Coal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Energy Administration is notifying nine utilities in the Midwest that it intends to order them to convert their power plants to burn coal rather than natural gas or oil, an FEA spokesman said Wednesday night.

He said the FEA was sending out "notices of intent" to the utilities as a prelude to public hearings on the fuel-conversion program set to begin May 20 in Kansas City.

The utilities involved operate some 25 electric generating plants in Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska, the spokesman said.
